KOWLOON CANTON RAILWAY

FOR THE FALLEN

ELGAR

With proud thanksgiving, a mother for her children,
England mourns for her dead across the sea.
Flesh of her flesh they were, spirit of her spirit,
Fallen in the cause of the free.

Solemn the drums thrill: Death august and royal
Sings sorrow up into immortal spheres.
There is music in the midst of desolation
And a glory that shines upon our tears.

They went with songs to the battle, they were young,
Straight of limb, true of eye, steady and aglow.
They were staunch to the end against odds uncounted,
They fell with their faces to the foe.

They fought, they were terrible, nought could tame them,
Hunger, nor legions, nor shattering cannonade.
They laughed, they sang their melodies of England,
They fell open-eyed and unafraid.

They shall grow not old, as we that are left grow old:
Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will remember them.

They mingle not with their laughing comrades again:
They sit no more at familiar tables of home;
They have no lot in our labour of the day-time:
They sleep beyond England's foam.

REMEMBRANCE DAY

NOVEMBER 11th

But where our desires are and our hopes profound,
Felt as a well-spring that is hidden from sight,
To the innermost heart of their own land they are known
As the stars are known to the Night.

As the stars that shall be bright when we are dust,
Moving in marches upon the heavenly plain,
As the stars that are stary in the time of our darkness,
To the end, to the end, they remain.

Lawrence Binyon.

Poppy Day Appeal

Some satisfaction will be derived from the indications that applications for assistance, although they incurred the large total of £90,098 during the past year are stabilising, with the prospects of falling off gradually with normal mortality and if the national trade conditions do not deteriorate. Nevertheless, since the toll of death also computes the passing of subscribers and supporters, funds are required with which to carry on the benevolent activities of the Officers' Benevolent Department, and well-wishers are asked to continue to subscribe in cash or kind, so that the standard of relief afforded to these most deserving applicants may be maintained at a scale commensurate with the inestimable services which they themselves or their officer bread-winners who have passed over, nobly gave to the British Empire in her hour of trial and need.

AUSTRIA AND MUSSOLINI

Nazis' Violent Agitation

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 20.

The Austrian Nazis have been quarrelling amongst themselves a good deal and there are signs of disintegration in their ranks. Not that they are in any danger of extinction; they are merely going through one of their "periodical crises." That crisis has been alleviated a little by the conflict between Italy and Abyssinia. Long periods of waiting and inactivity are always trying for revolutionary movements, and the Austrian Nazis have had little to do since last year's insurrection. The conflict between Italy and Abyssinia has given them an opportunity. They have begun a violent anti-Italian agitation. They assert—in a prodigious number of leaflets and quite truthfully—that Italy is an aggressor and peace-breaker. They also assert untruthfully but no doubt with some effect, that the Austrians (perhaps they mean Tyrolese, in which case they may be nearer the truth) are being recruited for service with the Italian colours in Africa. If Austria must choose between Hitler and Mussolini, she will certainly choose Hitler. It is not yet certain that she will have to choose, but by the anti-Italian agitation the Nazis make the choice seem necessary. By intensifying the deep hatred of Italy that already exists in Austria, by making Mussolini appear as though he had a sinister influence in Austrian affairs, they help to create the impression that there is no salvation for Austria except through union with Germany.

LADY MOUNTBATTEN AS RADIO ANNOUNCER

ETHIOPIA BUYS ARMS

London Nov. 8.
It is learned that large orders for ammunition and rifles, machine-guns and other war material, has been placed with a well-known British armaments firm by the Ethiopian Government.
The order is backed by cash guaranteed from the Emperor's personal fortune, from Menelik's war chest and from voluntary contributions of some 50,000 Maris. There are thalers from the Ethiopian treasury.
There have been other contributions to the cause. About 2500 anonymously, through the Ethiopian Legation in London.
Orders have already been placed in Belgium and Czechoslovakia, the last, named country, having contracted to supply the Ethiopian armies with field guns. It is understood that some supplies of arms have already arrived from Belgium at Djibouti.
Further orders are expected.

TO GET RID OF STOMACH TROUBLES

An English Doctor writes:—

"I find that 'Bisurated' Magnesia taken after most of my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I take it regularly. I often feel indigestion, and have had very good results."
(Signed) Dr. H. G. W. A. M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.
THE English Doctor is the most conservative medical opinion in the world, and when he only recommends but personally uses a remedy there can be no more convincing proof of its efficacy. This doctor is not one of many who constantly advise the use of 'Bisurated' Magnesia in all cases of indigestion. Most stomach troubles are caused by acidity, and the reason why 'Bisurated' Magnesia gives quick relief is that it instantly neutralises excess acid and soothes, heals and strengthens the inflamed stomach lining. Nothing could be simpler, safer, or surer. If you suffer with indigestion or stomach disorder of any kind put your faith in European science and make an end of your troubles by taking 'Bisurated' Magnesia after eating or whenever pain is felt.

Always see this oval sign. It is on every genuine carton. BISMAG

Look at Your Skin

Pimples, Spots, Coarse Blotched Skin now Easy to Avoid—say specialists.

Thousands of women are now relying upon Cuticura alone as their external aid to skin health and beauty. Pimples, blackheads, enlarged pores, irritations, 'muddy', coarse, rough skin all yield to this scientific treatment which every woman can carry out daily at little cost.
The treatment is simple. Wash the skin with Cuticura Soap twice every day. Its luxuriant lather cleanses and purifies, washes away pore-deep dust and grime, and softens the skin. And for pimples, skin outbreaks, rashes or irritations apply Cuticura Ointment to the affected part before washing with the Soap. ITALIAN FLEET
ADDITIONS

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Rome, Nov. 8.

Two Italian and 35 "Littorio" and "Vittorio Veneto" which are still under construction and will probably not be completed before the end of next year, have been formally incorporated in the Italian fleet by the Royal decree published here on Friday. The measure is obviously taken in order to strengthen Italy's bargaining power at the forthcoming naval conference in London.

U.S. ROYAL

The World's Finest Tires

Extra mileage, extra safety and extra value—you could not ask more of a tire than these. They represent all that a tire can give—and account for the leadership of ROYALS in every corner of the world.

- 1. MILEAGE... Think of how tempered steel compares with ordinary steel—and then you will understand the advantage of "Tempered Rubber" over ordinary Rubber. It is this tough, specially compounded rubber in the tread, and the extra thickness of the tread, that keeps ROYALS on the wheels of your car thousands of miles after ordinary tires would be worn out and thrown away.
- 2. SAFETY... The makers of ROYALS have worked hard to help reduce accidents caused by skidding and blow-outs. The massive blocks that make up the ROYAL tread have the same sure grip on the road as cogs on a cog wheel. And beneath the tread—right through to the heart of the tire—strong cotton cords and rubber are combined in an exclusive manner that makes blow-outs almost impossible.
- 3. EXTRA VALUES... Unless you have driven on ROYALS these "extra values" may come as a surprise. You will find that ROYAL tires are so good looking they improve the appearance of your car. And perhaps more important—they give such excellent service that you can be proud to tell your friends, "I always drive on ROYALS."

Ask for "ROYALS" the next time you buy!

"AGAINST THE LAW"

A highly exciting, suspenseful and tenseful dramatic screen thriller, "Against the Law" is playing to-morrow and Wednesday at the Alhambra. In a series of swift-paced, thrilling episodes the film unfolds the tale of a redoubtable police ambulance driver who is innocently involved in a gangster feud through the implication of the interne assigned to his care.

Johnny Mack Brown does splendidly as the vindictive driver who decides to even the score when his interne-friend, George Meeker, is driven to suicide by the heartless criminal machine. With the aid of Sally Blane, his heroic nurse, he traps the gangsters in a web of their own cowardice and thus accomplishes their undoing.

"Against the Law" is a novel and heroic phase of a hazardous life that is little known to the public. The picture thrillingly reveals how ambulance crews brave danger and death to give emergency aid to injured firemen under toppling, fire-swept walls, how gangsters regularly intimidate internes to perform illegal operations on gun-shot wounds and the dramatic consequences that ensue.

"AIR HAWKS"

Dealing with a death ray which can cause destruction from almost any distance "Air Hawks" a Columbia picture featuring Ralph Bellamy, Wiley Post, Tala Birell, Douglass Dumbrille, Victor Kilian and Billie Seward, is showing at the Alhambra.

While the ray in the film is not actually the type with which scientists and military experts have been experimenting for many years, it shows conclusively the manner in which the beam may be used in the future.

Wiley Post, famous round-the-world flier, is seen in person in "Air Hawks" as himself. His recent unsuccessful attempt at a new

CABARETS SCENES IN FILM

The almost forgotten port of sunny Cadiz in Spain serves as the setting for one of the gayest scenes in Paramount's "The Devil Is A Woman" now showing at the Queen's Theatre, starring Marlene Dietrich.

About all that most folk know of Cadiz is that Columbus set sail from there, but this sun-lit Spanish Port is one of the merriest towns in all Spain-famed for cabarets. They have all the stage and good music. It was in this sphere that Raquel Meller gained her renown, for though the patrons drink a lot and make plenty of noise, they are appreciative.

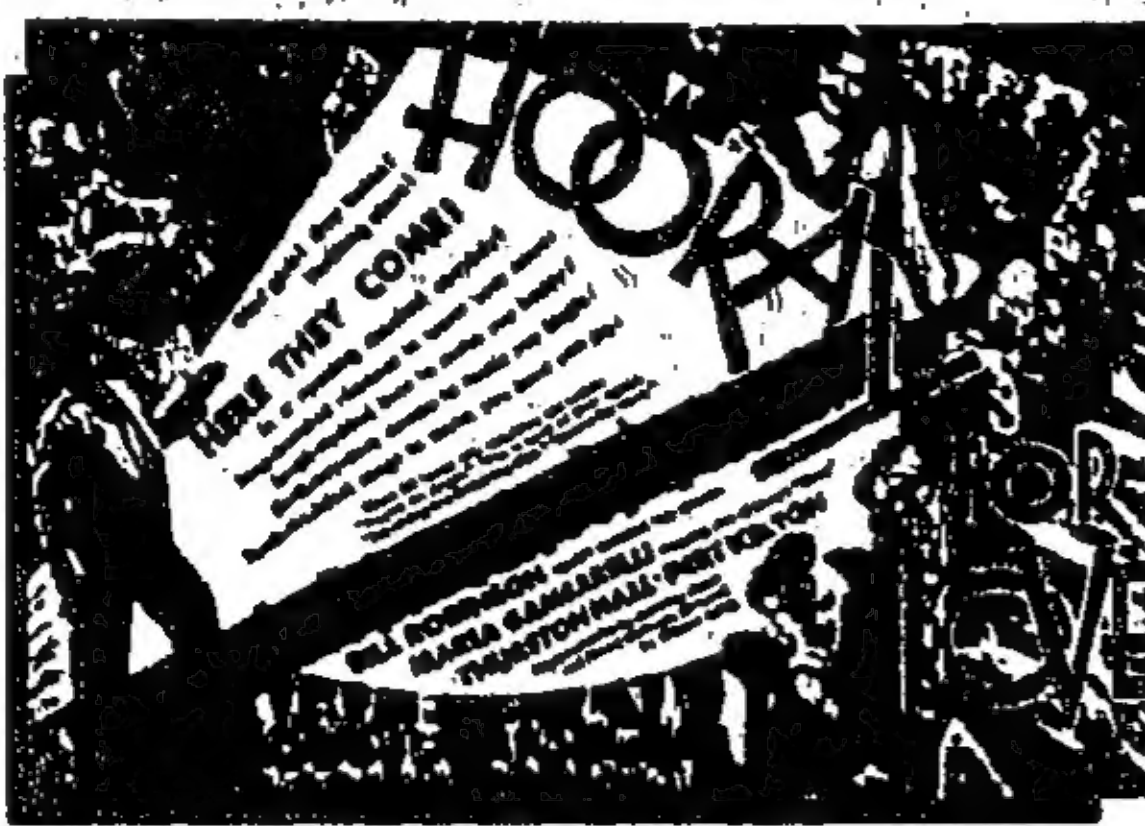

The bit in the picture is a thumb nail operetta, with Miss Dietrich as the hoyden diva. There are the comedy figures of a baker, a vegetable merchant and a peasant, backed by a chorus of operatic maidens. All are jammed into a miniature stage, tricked out with fish nets, dried pelicans, shells and marine conveniences. Miss Dietrich warbles like a lark. The high-priced customers hanging perilously from their box, clap their hands at her ears. A fifteen piece orchestra plays for all it is worth. All is merry, and performers being jammed together like sardines in a tin, the scene is a marvel of compactness. "The Devil Is A Woman" presents Cesar Romero, Lionel Atwill and Edward Everett Horton in support of Miss Dietrich, as a tempestuous and colourful vixen who takes love and returns heartbreak.

trans-continental speed record is featured in the film, where special scenes were needed for a stratosphere flight. Post portrays one of the pilots in Bellamy's airline.

Douglass Dumbrille plays an unscrupulous night-club owner; Victor Kilian is featured as a humorous newspaper reporter; and lovely Billie Seward plays a vivacious young girl, who manages to secure the love of almost every aviator in the film a sweetheart of the air force!

"Air Hawks" was directed by Albert Rogell.

THE BEST FILM

Twelve Nations Compete

Twelve nations entered for the International Film Festival recently held in Venice, contributing between them some 84 films. The first prize for the best film of the year was awarded to an American picture, "Anna Karenina," adapted from Tolstoy's novel. Last year the prize went to a British film, "Man of Aran," a documentary about the lives of fishermen on the barren Irish island of that name. It has been widely remarked that neither of these pictures could possibly be considered the most popular of their year, and the question has been put, What are qualities that entitle a film to the designation "best"?

Several answers have been given. Some instructors of the public are inclined to think that a film's merit depends on excellence of acting; others have held that the most important factor is the director, and that skillful "cutting" is the main issue; others, again, have said that the interest of the story, and its swiftness of movement, are the essential things; while yet others have pinned their faith to the verisimilitude of the characters, or the beauty of the photography.

But, on the whole, it seems to be felt that these points, important as they all are, do not go to the root of the matter. In "Man of Aran," since it was a documentary, there was no acting; but it exemplified, in a high degree, each of the other merits that have been demanded for a good film. Yet there was something in it that transcended all these; it fused them into a single impression of greatness of character by showing a race of men, and women undaunted by misfortune.

This criticism of life, in Matthew Arnold's phrase, was the final significance to which all the other technical merits contributed, and something like this could be said of "Anna Karenina," both novel and film. An acceptable view of life, communicated by the resources of cinematic art well understood, and properly employed—this perhaps is the essential of films aspiring to the rank of "best."

"DINKY"

Jackie Cooper And His Pals In New Role

Jackie Cooper, the little star of "Skippy," "Buck," "The Champ" and many other pictures, comes to the Queen's Theatre at an early date in the Warner Bros. production, "Dinky."

The picture has the best known child actors taking part, including Betty Jean Hance as Jackie's sweetheart, Jimmy Butler, George Ernest, Edith Fellows, Sidney Miller, Richard Quine and Frank Cernardi.

The scene takes place in a military academy for boys and an orphanage next door. There are football and baseball games. Cadet drills and every sport loved by the youth of America. There is also plenty of romance and glamour.

The picture is said to appeal to grown ups as much as to children. Mary Astor heads the cast of grown ups as Jackie's mother, with Roger Pryor as the lawyer, who is very much in love with the widow. Others in the cast include Henry Armetta, Henry O'Neill, Clay Clement, Florence Fair, Joseph Crehan, Addison Richards and James Burke.

there is some basis for your assertion."

DWIGHT MORROW A FINE AMERICAN

Exuberant Goodwill And Simplicity

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 17.

Dwight Morrow, whose death four years ago deprived the United States of an invaluable citizen, became known in England through the Naval Conference of 1930. During that distracted winter our ministers and officials had the pleasure of becoming acquainted with a most unusual American. They saw a very small, Mr. of fifty-seven, looking years younger. He was without the customary American trappings of head and dress. His manner of marked simplicity went along with an "insatiable friendliness" and exuberant goodwill. He could get on with anybody, was prodigiously informed, and would never admit defeat. By profession a lawyer, Dwight Morrow had been a partner in J. P. Morgans, the most powerful financial houses in the world. He was therefore rich though he never cared for money. He was devoted to the religion of public service. If he had survived he would, in all probability, have been chosen as Republican candidate to contest the Presidency with Franklin Roosevelt in 1936.

A GOOD LAWYER

Brought up on the Shorter Catechism, Dwight Morrow spent his boyhood in Pittsburg, went to Amherst College, Mass., where he was a classmate of Calvin Coolidge, and endured three years of Spartan rigour in New York while working his way through the Columbia Law School. At twenty-six he entered a leading law firm, and at once began making his name in New York as a corporation lawyer. In 1914, after some searchings of heart, he joined the Morgan firm.

Morrow was not a banker and never became one. He was a statesman in the realm of high finance. It was not for his talent, said Coolidge, that Morgans wanted him; talent is easy to buy. They wanted him for his character, which was priceless.

Before the war was many months old Dwight Morrow, who "loved tremendous tasks," was immersed in them. The command of the Allies' financial affairs in America fell to J. P. Morgan and Co., and later they directed the vast undertakings of purchase for the British Government. These things have been a legend for twenty years. Mr. Nicholson, in a fascinating chapter, sets out the facts of an enterprise in international dealing which, as many will think, displays the power and ingenuity of international capitalism in its most impressive form.

RETAINED HIS SANITY

He retained his sanity, throughout, and was one of the few prominent men who, in 1919, read the signs aright. He realised that the League Covenant went too far for American opinion, foresaw the return to isolation, knew that the business of debts and reparations was bedevilled from the start, and had a prophet's vision of the effects of the war upon the American system. His one romantic indulgence was his idealisation of Calvin Coolidge.

In the year of Woodrow Wilson's overthrow he flung himself into a "Coolidge for President" movement, being apparently unaware, for all his shrewdness, that the nomination of Warren Harding had been fixed by the Republican bosses months before. There seemed every reason why Dwight Morrow should be given high office by his friend when the presidency fell to him. But Coolidge made no move in his direction, having, it is believed, been persuaded that he must not appoint a man connected with the firm which more than any other stood in the common mind for the evil power of Wall Street.

HIS HARDEST JOB

Morrow said he could not have accepted an honour from Coolidge, but a job was another matter. The President, knowing Morrow's passion for solving the insoluble, sent him as Ambassador to Mexico. The post called for all his powers. Mexico was the test case as between the United States and Latin America. There was a chaotic situation touching the revolutionary economic policy, the oil companies, and above all, the assault upon the Church. Here, plainly, was the place for making trial of a new tolerant diplomacy, embodying an enlightened relationship between a great Power and a weak and struggling nation. Dwight Morrow saw this and performed a superb task, making for himself a place among the few internationally creative men of our epoch.

A TRIUMVIRATE

His brief term of office in Mexico made a striking contrast to the dozen years of his association with Morgans, when his hand was in one momentous transaction after another. The house was concerned with financial reconstruction in Europe, in the Americas, and the Far East, and its policy was mainly directed by a triumvirate—J. P. himself, T. W. Lamont, and Dwight Morrow—who might conceivably have succeeded in their terrific effort if the affairs of men in nations and under Governments, were in actuality what the City and Wall Street still believe them to be. Dwight Morrow used all his influence towards widespread American investment in foreign securities, and in this connection Mr. Nicholson says that the Dawes loan to Germany is the only one of the international loans backed by Morgans upon which default has occurred. That, surely, is a startling statement.

DIED A SENATOR

Dwight Morrow was never free from political ambition, and he did a United States Senator. That was not what he wanted; but his election was a notable event by reason of his own uncompromising straightness. He was the first conspicuous public man to declare, in an election campaign, that national Prohibition was a failure and that the dry amendment to the Constitution must be repealed. The electorate of New Jersey, rejoicing in a candidate who spoke his conviction outright, gave him a resounding majority, which was an unmistakable ringing of the bell.

The point about Dwight Morrow, says Mr. Nicholson, is that, "while representing the perfected type of American, he also became a model for the completely civilised man." That is, I think, to put the claim for this fine American a little too high. But a very fine American he was, and his personality has been enshrined by one of the most accomplished of English biographers in a book that is both important and delightful.

Two Irishmen were fighting in very wet weather.

One had the other down and was kneeling on the top of him. "Will you give in?" he demanded. "No," said the defiant reply. So the struggle continued. "Will you yield now?" the one on top asked a few minutes later. "No," said the other, "I'm getting wet through."

NEW SOURCE OF PETROL SUPPLY

Oil From Coal

London, Oct. 20.

When Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, in opening the coal hydrogenation petrol plant at Billingham last week, described it as an "astonishing creation," he was not wide of the mark. Two years ago the large area on which it stands was a waste adjoining the Imperial Chemical Industries' important fertiliser works. To-day it is covered from one end to the other with vast masses of gigantic machinery and plant, dwarfing to complete insignificance the tiny human beings who swarm about it.

Although research work directed at supplying our oil needs from our immense coal resources has been continuously carried on by Imperial Chemical Industries since 1927 with varying success, it was not until 1933 that commercial exploitation was made possible by the preference granted to home-produced light oils under the British Hydrocarbon Oils Production Act. With the passing of that Act Imperial Chemical Industries, which had already spent over $1,000,000 on research, authorised the construction of the present plant, work on which was begun in August 1933.

Up to 13,600 men have been employed in the work of construction, while many thousands more have been employed by contractors to whom the making of various forgings and machines was entrusted. To-day the petrol plant employs a regular 2,000 men, bringing up the total army of workpeople employed by the I.C.I. at Billingham to over 9,500.

410 TONS A DAY

The average daily output to-day is 410 tons of petrol, the quality of which is equal to the highest grade of petrol sold in this country. The potential output of this plant unit is 150,000 tons of petrol a year, or 45,000,000 gallons.

This is but a small drop in the vast ocean of petrol we import annually. Last year, for instance, our imports of motor spirit totalled 1,127,152,000 gallons. But it is a beginning, a definite herald of the day not too distant we hope when a British industry based on home resources will secure us from danger of oil shortage in times of trouble.

Billingham, large and important as it is, is but one unit. On it £3,000,000 has been spent, or rather, as Mr. MacDonald said, not spent but transformed, and is now creating new employment. Other large units must follow in proximity to the leading English and Scottish coalfields. Coal will come into its own again as the basis of a great oil fuel industry.

At present the coal used at Billingham is exclusively from the Durham pits. The works there use 1,300,000 tons a year, of which 600,000 is required for the production of 150,000 tons of petrol being produced by the hydrogenation plant. Other coals, however, are believed to be just as good for the purpose, the only real exception being anthracite. With every duplication of the plant more work will be given to the miners and more and more of their products will be required.

OIL FIRMS' HELP

What, it will be asked, is the attitude of the oil companies to this new industry? Sir Harry McGowan, the chairman of Imperial Chemical Industries, was able to give the answer to this question at the opening ceremony on Tuesday. Close collaboration, he declared had been established. Distribution of the petrol manufactured at Billingham would be entirely in the hands of the great companies already engaged in that task, the Shell-Mex and B.P. Ltd., and the Anglo-American Oil Company. There was to be no waste of capital by duplication.

"The oil companies," he declared, have dealt broadmindedly throughout with the advent of this newcomer to the sources of petrol supply, and I desire on this occasion to say how much we appreciate their help and their co-operation."

It is impossible here to describe either the process or the plant in detail. These are matters for the technologist and the chemist. Suffice it to say that the works as they stand to-day represent the triumph of the chemist and the engineer over almost baffling and insoluble problems. They are a monument, to adopt Mr. MacDonald's words, to men distinguished in applied science, industrial organisation, engineering genius, and labour craftsmanship.

Research is still going on. Billingham is not the last word. Indeed, its commercial possibility is largely due to the fiscal preference its product is receiving. We do not doubt that in the years to come British oil manufactured from British coal will have surmounted even this last obstacle, and will be strong enough to meet competition from whatever quarter of the world it may come.

SPEECH DAY

Munsang College's Enrolment Down

The Munsang College held their Annual Speech Day on Saturday when the Headmaster, Mr. R. Huang, B.Sc., in the course of his speech, stressed the fact that there had been a falling off in the year's attendance due to boys not being able to obtain promotions leaving the school for others. Assistance for financial help was asked from the public in order to allow the school to have its own house.

Prior to the distribution of prizes which were performed by Sir Henry Pollock, the students entertained the gathering to a very delightful concert.

The Hon. S. W. Tso, Chairman of the College Council was also present.

In the course of his report for the year the Headmaster stated:

"Our highest enrolment during the year was 357 as against 376 of the previous year, a decrease of about 5 per cent. This number, however, did not include that of Munsang's Free Night School for the poor, which had over 80 pupils. There were 383 meetings in the Middle School and 402 for the Primary Department, average attendance being 94 per cent.

Inspector's Visit.

The following were the prize winners:

OPIMUM POSSESSION

Convicted on the charge of having in her possession a quantity of prepared opium at the Railway Station on November 6, Tang Oi Ching, a spinster was fined $3,000 or in default to serve 3 months' hard labour when she was brought before Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday.

Defendant went into the box, where she stated that the drug did not belong to her. The tin of biscuits, she said, belonged to her amah who disappeared when the search was being made.

She was fined $3,000 or 8 months in default.

Defendant (addressing the Bench): May I appeal against your decision?—Yes.

ALLEGED BAG SNATCHER

Wong Yu was remanded by Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones on Saturday at the Kowloon Magistracy when he was charged with bag snatching. The remand was necessitated by the absence of the complainant who gave her name as Mrs. O. Gister following the attempted snatching incident at Kowloon on Friday.

Det. Sergt. Davis, who prosecuted, told the Court that the incident took place in Salisbury Road and a Mr. Davidson who was passing by in his car arrested the man. The lady then gave her name as Mrs. Gister to Mr. Davidson, who handed the man over to the Police.

Stating that he could not proceed with the case unless the complainant was present, Mr. Wynne-Jones ordered a formal remand until Tuesday morning.

THE COLONY'S HOMELESS

Shelters To Be Opened

Commencing on the night of December 1, the Colony's two street sleepers' shelters at St. Peter's Church and in Po Yan Street will be opened once again to all the homeless, who have spent the nights during the past summer sleeping on pavements in the west part of the city. The Street Sleepers' Association has been unsuccessful in again renting the original shelter in Po Yan Street, which was opened on last December 15, but a part of the Tung Wah Hospital building, also in Po Yan Street, has been secured for street sleepers. This new shelter is only about 30 to 40 yards from the original one.

According to Miss Mow Fung, Honorary Secretary of the Street Sleepers' Association, great difficulty is being experienced in establishing a shelter on the mainland. For the past few months the officials of the Association have been attempting to secure a place at Yau-mat for the purpose of establishing a shelter for Kowloon's homeless, but no suitable building could be rented. The only vacant places in that locality are Chinese flats, which are impossible to convert into a shelter.

APPEAL TO PUBLIC

Miss Mow Fung stated that the Association would be grateful if anyone, knowing of a suitable place near Yau-mat, would kindly inform the Association, so that a shelter for Kowloon's homeless be established without any delay.

An appeal has been made to the public for funds to support the Association, but the donations are coming in very slowly. To continue the work financial help is greatly necessary, therefore those who intend to contribute to this worthy fund are kindly requested to send in their donations as soon as possible. Not only money, but contributions in the form of blankets, medical material and food-stuffs are also welcomed.

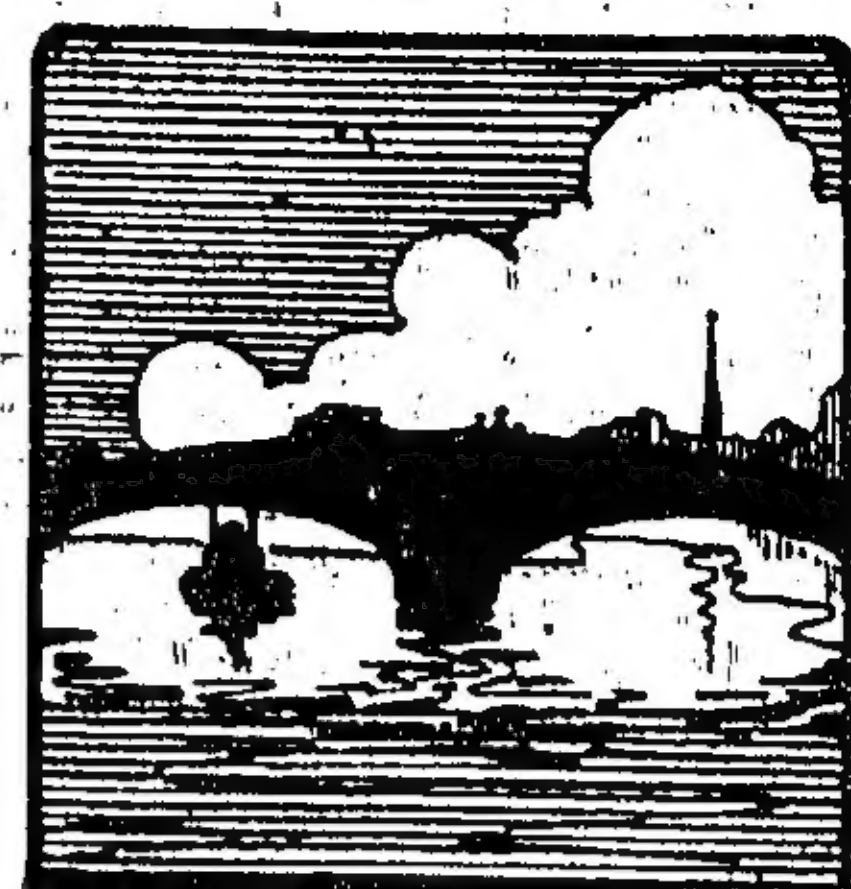

and Mrs. A. W. Hayward, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Pearce, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Baskett, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Stokes, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. P. Williams, Mr. A. K. Mackenzie, Mr. D. W. Leach, Capt. D. W. G. Perse, Mr. R. Booth, Mr. W. G. Wallington, Mr. T. A. Pearce, Mr. P. Madar, Mr. H. Hadar, Mr. G. B. Elliott, Mr. A. H. Madar, Mr. G. R. M. Rickels, Mr. J. C. Jenkins, Mr. A. R. Minu, Mr. E. C. Baker, Lt. C. C. Garraway, Mr. J. B. Leckie, Mr. S. R. Kernan, Mr. G. S. Dunkley, Mr. E. P. Humphrys, Mr. F. Pereira, Mr. E. C. Fincher, and Mr. I. McInnes.

His Excellency presided at a meeting of the Executive and Legislative Councils.

His Excellency, attended by Captain W. J. R. Crag, A.D.C., was the guest of the President and Committee of the Hong Kong Cricket Club at a luncheon party given in honour of the Interport Cricket Teams at the Cricket Club Pavilion.

In the afternoon, His Excellency, attended by personal staff, and accompanied by Lady Southern was present at the Interport Cricket Match.

FUNERAL

Of The Late Mr. W. M. Johnston

It is with deep regret that we have to announce the death of Mr. William Murray Johnston, chief time-keeper at the Kowloon Docks which occurred suddenly on Saturday morning at 3 o'clock from heart failure.

Of a genial and jovial disposition, the late Mr. Johnston was only 58 years of age and came to this Colony in 1909 when in his younger days he was a fine athlete being well known as a sprinter. Later he took up lawn bowls and that was his chief form of recreation in his older days. He was a member of the Kowloon Bowling Green Club and the Kowloon Docks Recreation Club. He is survived by a widow and a daughter to whom the deepest sympathy is extended in their bereavement.

THE FUNERAL

The funeral which took place on Saturday at the Colonial Cemetery, Happy Valley was officiated by the Rev. Frank Short. The high esteem in which the deceased was held can well be gauged by the large attendance at the funeral and amongst those were:

Messrs. E. L. Hosie, H. Scott, R. Morrison, J. V. Ramsay, A. M. Calman, S. Gray, G. R. Humble, T. Colman, J. Kempson, J. Lindsay, J. Adam, H. G. Cooper, W. C. Mackie, J. Revie, W. Hedley, G. Stewart, R. F. Goodman, J. Crookdale, M. Bell, G. A. Cuthill, H. Nish, W. Forsyth, K. R. Mackaskill, F. Cullen, G. Duncan, J. Wood, W. Greig, Insp. Stewart Logan, W. J. Rattey, C. Atkinson, members of the Chinese Staff and many others.

FLORAL TRIBUTES

There was a profusion of wreaths, from "His sorrowing wife and daughter," "His sister Jessie," Jessie and Liz, a beautiful wreath of poppies from "His colleagues on the staff of the Hong Kong and Whampoa Dock Co., Ltd.," Mrs. Nancy Grady, Mr. and Mrs. G. Cuthill, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Hedley, Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Revie, Mr. and Mrs. Adam and Margaret, Mrs. J. Groundwater, Messrs. E. L. Hosie, A. S. Bliss, Lo Koon-kam, Lo Koon-hang and Chan Ngau, Insp. Stewart Logan, Chairman and Board of Directors, the Hong Kong & Whampoa Dock Co., Ltd., Time Office, Kowloon Docks, The Portuguese Staff, Kowloon Docks, Kowloon Football Club, Kowloon Bowling Green Club and many others.

OBITUARY

Mr. John R. Archibald

The death took place at Alloa, Scotland on September 29 of Mr. John R. Archibald, of Hong Kong and latterly of Penang, Straits Settlement.

The late Mr. Archibald arrived in Hong Kong on September 4, 1925, to join the staff of the Green Island Brickworks, Deep Water Bay, under the management of Shewan, Tomes and Co., Ltd. Subsequently he accepted an offer from the Borneo Co., Ltd. and left the Colony in 1930 to take up a post with the Alexandra Brickworks, Ltd., at Butterworth, Province Wellesley (Penang). Early in the present year his health began to give rise to much anxiety and eventually, at the earnest solicitations of his wife, he called for Home, arriving in London on May 21, when he entered a nursing home and was at once operated on for appendicitis. His health, however, did not improve, but worsened, and an Edinburgh specialist diagnosed kidney trouble, giving little hope of recovery; and this proved the immediate cause of his untimely death. He is survived by a widow and one child, a daughter, to whom the deepest sympathy is extended in their sad bereavement.

MR. J. R. BROUWER

Cabled news was received by the office of the Netherlands Trading Society on Saturday of the death of their manager Mr. J. R. Brouwer while on sick leave in Holland. As a mark of respect the Dutch flag was at half mast outside the Hong Kong Office on Saturday.

The late Mr. Brouwer was born in Cordova, in the Argentine, on November 11, 1895. He was educated in Holland and at the age of 19 entered the employ of the Netherlands Trading Society. His first service abroad was in the Dutch East Indies, when he was in the Sugar Department at Batavia. He was later transferred to Sourabaya, and, after going on Home leave, was appointed Chief Accountant in Calcutta, India.

After several years in Calcutta he was transferred to Rangoon, and, following another leave, was despatched to Hong Kong, first as Chief Accountant, attaining later to the position of Acting Manager and finally Manager. He remained in this position until he was sent home on sick leave a few months ago.

COLONY'S NEW SILVER MEASURES

Government To Issue Notes And Coins

The exportation of Hong Kong dollars and silver bullion, silver subsidiary coins, Mexican dollars from the Colony is prohibited by the Ordinance and Proclamation issued by the Government after an Extraordinary Meeting of the Legislative Council held on Saturday when these new measures were passed.

The authorisation of the issue and re-issue of Government $1 notes and of cupro-nickel 10 cent and 5 cent pieces was also made. This is an emergency measure to maintain the supply of currency of relatively small denomination. The notes are not intended to replace the existing bank notes but only to replace the dollar coins.

The meeting of the Council was presided over by His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government, Sir Thomas Southern, while others present were:

His Excellency the Acting General Officer Commanding the troops, Major-General W. M. Thackeray.

The Colonial Secretary, the Hon. Mr. D. W. Truman.

The Attorney General, the Hon. Mr. C. G. Alabaster.

The Secretary for Chinese Affairs, the Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith.

The Colonial Treasurer, the Hon. Mr. E. Taylor.

Hon. Commander G. F. Hole, R.N. (Retired), Harbour Master.

The Hon. Mr. R. M. Henderson, Director of Public Works.

The Hon. Dr. W. B. A. Moore, Acting Director Medical and Sanitary Services.

The Hon. Mr. M. J. Breen, Postmaster-General.

The Hon. Sir Henry Pollock, the Hon. Sir William Shenton, the Hon. Mr. M. K. Lo, the Hon. Mr. J. P. Braga, the Hon. Dr. S. W. T'so, the Hon. Mr. J. J. Paterson, the Hon. Mr. T. N. Chau and Mr. E. A. D. Forrest (Clerk of Councils).

The following is the Government Gazette Extraordinary Notification issued at noon yesterday:—

"In exercise of the powers conferred by section 4 of the Importation and Exportation Ordinance, 1915, the Governor in Council rescinds paragraph (1) of the Regulation published by Government Notification No. 439 in the Gazette of June 7, 1935, and the word 'or' at the end of paragraph (1) thereof and makes the following additional Regulation:—

No person, other than the Treasurer and persons acting under his direction, shall, after 12 noon of Saturday, November 9, 1935, export any British dollars, Mexican dollars, Hong Kong subsidiary silver coin, or silver bullion from this Colony to any country or place."

At the special Council meeting the Hon. Mr. C. G. Alabaster said: "Sir, with your consent I rise to move the Suspension of so much of the Standing Orders of this Council as stands in the way of this Council meeting, without written notice or an Order of Business, and of the introduction and passing through all its stages at this meeting of a Bill, copies of which are before members."

Text of Bill.
The Bill was then read and passed. It reads as follows:

An Ordinance to provide for the issue by the Treasurer of one-dollar legal tender currency notes.

Be it enacted by the Governor of Hong Kong, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council thereof, as follows:—

1. This Ordinance may be cited as the Dollar Currency Notes Ordinance, 1935.

2. It shall be lawful for the Treasurer to issue and re-issue one-dollar currency notes in the Colony.

3. Such notes shall be legal tender for the payment of any amount.

4. The Treasurer shall establish a note security fund into which he shall pay all monies he receives for such currency notes. The fund shall be held on deposit at one or more banks in the Colony and shall be available for withdrawal from circulation of the said currency notes as the Treasurer may from time to time deem it desirable to withdraw: provided that a portion of the fund may be temporarily invested at the discretion of the Treasurer.

Objects And Reasons.

This Ordinance authorises the Treasurer to issue and re-issue one-dollar currency notes which will be legal tender for the payments of any amount. These notes are not intended to replace the existing bank-note issues, but only to replace the dollar coins. It is not intended that they shall remain permanently in circulation. They are issued as an emergency measure to maintain the supply of currency of a relatively small denomination.

Arrangements have been made to replace them by one-dollar bank-notes. As soon as an adequate supply of the latter becomes available it is intended that no more Government one-dollar notes shall be issued and that those in circulation shall be gradually withdrawn therefrom.

General Statement.

The following is a general statement of the aims and reasons for which the new legislation is passed:—

The Government have prohibited the export of Hong Kong dollars and silver sub-coin, Mexican dollars and silver bullion (which includes "chopped" dollars) from the Colony. The export of Chinese silver coin, etc., (except to China) is already prohibited.

The Government are also authorising, by Ordinance and Proclamation respectively, the issue of Government $1 notes and of cupro-nickel 10-cent and 5-cent pieces.

The new $1 notes are not intended to replace the existing bank-note issues, but only to replace the dollar coins. These notes are issued as an emergency measure to maintain the supply of currency of a relatively small denomination. They are not intended to remain permanently in circulation, but are to be replaced by $1 banknotes as soon as an adequate supply of the latter, for which arrangements are being made, is available.

Thereafter it is intended that no more Government one-dollar notes shall be issued, and that those in circulation shall be gradually withdrawn. In the meantime the new $1 notes will be freely exchanged into banknotes as well as into the new token coin at the Treasury: at the District Office at Taiipo; and at the following Post Offices:—General Post Office, Kowloon, Yum Kong and Taiipo. A description of the new note is issued herewith.

New Coins.

The new coins are struck from the same dies as the old, and are identical with them in design. They all bear the effigy of H.M. King George V and the date 1935. The new notes are legal tender for the payment of any amount, and the new coin for amounts up to $2.

Stocks of the new notes and sub-coin will be made available during the weeks end and will be obtainable as follows:—

a—Notes from the Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation.

a—Sub-coins.

1—from the Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, the Chartered Bank of India Australia and China, and the Mercantile Bank of India, Ltd.

2—at the Treasury in unbroken bags (containing $400 and $125 of 10 cents and 5 cents respectively);

3—at the G.P.O. and Kowloon P.O. and at the District Office at Taiipo, in amounts up to $100.

All of these will also take in on behalf of the Government any old coin and sub-coin tendered in exchange. Banks, companies, shopkeepers and others are asked not to re-issue or circulate the old coin and sub-coin, which will be withdrawn after an interval sufficient to allow of the distribution of the new notes and coin, but to exchange them as soon as possible at the banks etc., named above. (or through their own bankers) for the new currency.

Text Of Proclamation.

Immediately after the meeting the following proclamation was made: By His Excellency, Sir Wilfrid Thomas Southern, Knight Commander of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire, Companion of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, the Officer Administering

Mr. Kerr gave the toast of "The King," and Wing Comdr Bishop the "Silent Toast."

The Government of the Colony of Hong Kong and its Dependencies

"Whereas by Article 4 (3) of the Hong Kong (Coinage) Order, 1895, it is provided that if any new coins are coined, the said Article shall after the date fixed by the Governor, in a proclamation made with the approval of the Commissioners of the Treasury and a Secretary of State setting forth in a Schedule the same particulars with respect to each coin as are set forth in the Third Schedule to the said Order, apply to the new coins as if the Schedule to the proclamation were added to that Third Schedule:—

"And whereas new coins have been coined:

"And whereas the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury and a Secretary of State have approved the making of this proclamation setting forth in the Schedule hereto the same particulars with respect to each coin as are set forth in the Third Schedule to the said Order:

"Now, I, in exercise of the powers vested in me, hereby proclaim that after November 9, 1935, Article 4 of the Hong Kong (Coinage) Order, 1895, shall apply to the new coins in the Schedule to this proclamation as if such Schedule were added to the Third Schedule to the said Order.

"Given under my hand and the Public Seal of the Colony at Victoria, Hong Kong, this ninth day of November, 1935.

Description of Note.

The Hong Kong Government One-Dollar Note, measures five inches by three and one-eighth and is printed in several colours on white paper.

Front. The most conspicuous features are an oval full-face portrait of His Majesty the King on the right; and an oval medallion on the left; and the frame surrounding the note, are in purple. On the frame at the top are the words "Government Of Hong Kong"; on medallions at the four corners are the figure 1 (top right and bottom left).

Within the frame, and between the oval medallions mentioned above, are the English words "One Dollar" in bold black shadowed capitals. These Notes are Legal Tender For The Payment Of Any Amount; below this, in bold capitals "One Dollar" in English and Chinese, and, at the bottom a facsimile of the signature of the Colonial Treasurer.

The background in the centre of the note, between the medallions, is a reticulated pattern of many faint colours, among which green, pink and brown predominate. The remainder of the background within the frame is an inconspicuous sage-green with a reddish diaper pattern covering it. The notes are numbered in black with a letter of the alphabet and six figures, at the top right and bottom left corners within the frame.

Back. The back is white, with a large ornamental tracery design darker in the middle, which bears the words "One Dollar" in Chinese (above) and English (below), and more lightly printed on the two wings of the design, which emerge from behind the darker centre and two leaf-like decorations flanking the centre. Above are the words "Government of Hong Kong," and in each corner the symbol $1.

The New Cupro-Nickel 10 cent and 5 cent pieces are struck from the same dies as the 800 fine silver 10 cent and 5 cent pieces, and bear the effigy of His Majesty King George V and the date 1935.

SIR LEITH-ROSS ON CHINA'S CURRENCY

Loan Emphatically Denied

Shanghai, Nov. 7.

The rumours that the recently announced currency scheme, of the Chinese Government resulted from an arrangement for a British loan or credit to China has led to an emphatic denial by Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, Chief Economic Adviser to H. M. Government, who, it is understood, authorized the denial to be published abroad. On the basis of that denial Mr. A. Ariyoshi's statement was made on Tuesday.

Sir Frederick has, he admits, discussed loan possibilities with the Japanese and American Ambassadors but, as he explained to the "North-China Daily News" yesterday, the Chinese Government had been compelled to take action by the market situation without assurances of a loan from the Powers.

Nevertheless, to a country in China's position, a loan would be useful and it was hoped eventually that, with the co-operation of other Powers, including Japan, some arrangement might be made.

Turning to the Chinese Government's currency scheme, Sir Frederick said that its general lines were not surprising, as the abandonment of silver had been widely anticipated. What was surprising was the rapidity of enforcement without external support. It was based on the principle of self-help and he wished it every success. The reserves held by the three banks constituted resources sufficient to tide the Government over until the balance of trade became more favourable. For the success of the scheme, he emphasized, reforms of the banking system, particularly the creation of an independent Central Reserve Bank and a balanced budget, were essential.

He admitted that these reforms had been discussed with the Chinese Government as part of any currency scheme and he expressed satisfaction that the Chinese Government had undertaken to put them into effect.

AMERICAN BANKER'S ATTITUDE

Mr. J. A. Mackay, assistant vice-president of the National City Bank, explained that his bank was quite willing to co-operate with the Chinese Government in regard to the reforms, provided the proper protection were given by Washington.

"We must look after the interests of our depositors," Mr. Mackay said, "and we must safeguard ourselves against suits in the United States Court. In no circumstances could we yield all the silver which is now in our vaults and for which we paid more than the cost price."

Mr. Mackay sent a long despatch about the situation to the head office of the bank in New York yesterday.

DEMAND FOR NOTE

Following the enforcement of the new currency policy, there has been a persistent demand for notes issued by the Central Bank, the Bank of China, and the Bank of Communications, which have been decreed legal tender. According to an estimate made at the Issue Department of the Central Bank, approximately $7,000,000 in banknotes were taken out from the three Government banks on Monday, the first day, and a little less than this amount on Tuesday and Wednesday. The majority of these notes were supplied by the Central Bank.

These notes were given on the presentation of silver, or 60 per cent, silver and 40 per cent, other securities, native banks financial institutions, individuals, etc., being the applicants. A large number of persons changed their silver for notes at the Central Bank on the first day and the number was increasing on the following two days.

The silverstocks in Shanghai ending Monday were estimated by some Chinese bankers to be more than $334,000,000, of which more than 12 per cent. were held by the foreign banks. According to a rough estimate by a Chinese banker, the total silver stocks in the country, including ornaments, were known to be $2,700,000,000, of which $1,700,000,000 were in coins, sycee or bars.

RUMOUR REITERATED

In spite of denials of the loan, the "Shanghai Mail" yesterday came out with a strange report that Britain had decided upon the establishment of a $10,000,000 credit in favour of China jointly by the Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, the Chase Bank, and the Chartered Bank of India and Australia, in addition to a $80,000,000 British "cumulative loan."

CHINESE MEASURES APPROVED

London Inclined To View Decrees Favourably

London, Nov. 6.

Emphasizing that this was the ratio of the pound sterling's depreciation, City quarters yesterday favourably commented on the news of the Chinese currency's devaluation by approximately 40 per cent.

Certain observers in the British capital are inclined to see in the depreciation of the dollar an indication that it will become attached to the sterling monetary group. Others, however, point out that such an interpretation is at least premature.

It is generally thought that Nan-king's monetary measures are inspired by the experiments conducted during the past few years practically all over the world and seem to aim chiefly at the defence of China's silver fund, the creation of a solid monetary system and the protection of Chinese trade against foreign competition.—Havas.

WEDDING BELLS

Tod-Western

St. John's Cathedral was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday when Miss Ursula Phyllis Western became the bride of Lieutenant John Kenneth Tod, R.N., of H.M.S. Daring.

The Rev. H. W. Baines officiated at the wedding.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Western of Dint-hill, Gerrards Cross, Buckinghamshire, England, entered the church wearing a white "poul de sole" dress, with a train decorated with white marguerites. She was given away by Captain R. S. Benson, R.N., and was attended by Miss Evelyn Tod, the sister of the bridegroom, Miss Prudence Johnson and Miss Sara-Mary Coventry as bridesmaids.

The bridegroom, who is the elder son of Colonel and Mrs. Tod of Four Marks, Alton, Hampshire, England, was attended by Lt. Commander A. B. Coventry, R.N., as best man.

A reception was later held on board H.M.S. Daring, and the couple then left on their honeymoon, which is to be spent in the New Territories.

PROBATES

Granted By The Supreme Court

Local estate to the value of $59,800 was left by Mr. William Strachan, late of 30 Treigohwell Road, Bournemouth, Hants, who died at the above address on March 16, 1935. An application by Mr. G. O. N. Tinson, solicitor, the lawful attorney for sealing certified copy of probate of the will, was granted.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mackay, late of 47 Grampan Road, Kowloon City, who died at Kowloon Hospital on July 8, 1934, left local estate amounting to $20,100. Probate of the will has been granted to Edwina Louise Rogers, the eldest daughter.

Probate of the will has been granted to Chu Shu-cheng, the eldest son, in the estate of Mr. Chu Puk-tung, alias Chu Chun, merchant, who left local estate valued at $68,500. The deceased was formerly of Sun Wai District, Kwangtung and late of 123, Caine Road. He died at the latter address on June 17, 1935.

LEST WE FORGET

The poppy, or the "Flower of Flanders" which you wear to-day is a reminder that seventeen years ago to-day came the end of the greatest attempt that the world had witnessed of self-annihilation. For more than four years men of a dozen nationalities waged war upon each other, and the record of this war is written in the blood of the slain and the tears of the bereaved. It was four years of madness and although there are books and other official documents describing aspects of the "glories" or horrors of that fearful struggle, we must nevertheless not lose sight of the naked fact that many millions of men were killed and many more millions cruelly maimed, and hundreds of thousands being condemned to a living death by injuries received to body or faculties beyond the skill of surgery or science to remedy.

We were given to understand at the time that it was a "War to end war," that the League of Nations, subsequently formed, was strong enough to prevent another war. Events since then have proved, and proved conclusively, that the world has not yet done away with war. Even at the present time, Italy and Ethiopia are engaged in destroying one another, and although the League is making a determined effort, backed up by Great Britain in particular, to bring the war to an early conclusion, still much slaughter has been done, and will be done before "finis" could be written to this chapter of history. Over in China, trouble is also brewing, and with Japan casting an eye on the old capital, there is no saying what is going to happen next. In fact every nation is running an armament race, and the fear is expressed that the Holo-Ethiopian conflict may lead to another world war.

Our earnest wish, however, is for the early coming of a day when humanity will be wise enough to realise the madness of this destructive method of settling differences between nations. The author of "All Quiet on the Western Front" has reminded us of what that method was—and unfortunately that method is being employed once again.

Can there be any one man or woman who, after reading the lurid passages in that book, and in the many others of its kind, does not feel that Armistice Day should be made an occasion of international significance in the development of the peace movement?

However, the immediate pertinent consideration before us is "What and Whom to Remember?" The claims of Poppy Day have been already eloquently pressed upon the community; we have now simply to remind our readers that the day is here. And we, who are blessed with health and other worldly gains, should not turn a deaf ear to the appeal of the less fortunate of our brothers and sisters. It is to be remembered that the total loss in killed of all nationalities was about ten millions, the wounded numbered more than double that figure, the heartbreaks are as far beyond calculation as the tears and curses of the non-combatant men, women and children whose sufferings were the more pitiful because of their being so utterly helpless.

It is within the means of every reader of these lines to do something to-day—however little it may seem—to relieve the sad distress which unfortunately still exists among so many ex-service men, and their dependants. We have with us, too, thousands of women and children who are in need. It is for all these that we are asked to buy poppies, and we should pay for them as generously as men gave their lives in the cause they held so sacred.

FINANCE SITUATION IN CANTON

(From Our Special Correspondent.)

Canton, Nov. 10.
Financial uncertainty in Canton as a result of the nationalization of silver is over, now that the government banknotes are accepted everywhere as legal tender. In fact, they were used on the same strength as silver coins before November 7.

What worries business men is that the notes of the Kwangtung Provincial Bank and the Canton Municipal Bank may not be accepted by foreign banks in exchange for Hong Kong dollars. As a rule all Shanghai banks demand silver coins when they sell Hong Kong banknotes.

There is a sufficient supply of 10-cent and 50-cent notes to supplement those denominations of over one dollar. Many people went to the government banks to buy the ten-cent and 50-cent notes, but so far very few people are inclined to sell their silver coins for government notes.

Up to to-day, about $150,000 in silver have been "nationalized" by the government banks. Unless they are in need of government notes to settle accounts, Canton residents prefer to keep up their silver reserve and are not attracted by the 20 per cent. premium offered by the government banks for silver coins.

If Gossip We Must

(BY ONLOOKER).

THE MOTT-STENHOUSE WEDDING.

Wednesday was a terrific day for all the Gossip writers as our readers will have gathered. "Onlooker" managed to fit in the charming Mott-Stenhouse wedding and reception as well as other festivities. How we wish this particular bride and bridegroom were going to stay with us always, but alas after a brief honeymoon at Repulse Bay they return to Shanghai. The bride looked very lovely as she arrived at the church on the arm of Mr. Jack MacGregor, she was beautifully dressed in shades of brown and beige and carried a bouquet of African daisies to match. After the wedding we all went up to the popular house of MacGregor to wish our happy couple all the best of luck. Among the friends assembled were Mr. and Mrs. Thayer, Mr. Penrice, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, the latter wearing the most attractive grey tailored suit, Mrs. Strickland who is up from Singapore acted as hostess and was wearing blue and white, while the best man, Captain Fennell, was busy with all the usual functions of his office.

AT THE "GRIPS."

No day of celebration is complete with out a look in at the dear old "Grips" and Wednesday night was just as pleasant there as usual. There were a great many after cocktail party celebrations rounding the evening off, including Miss Murrow, Madame and Monsieur de Precourt, Hermione Beauclerk, Mr. and Mrs. Prior—the latter looking most attractive in a provocative little hat, and a becoming red and black dress. Mrs. Gee looked lovely in black with a devastating halo hat. Quite the smartest person at the Grips that night was Mrs. Stevens—she had a divinely cut black dress with touches of red, complete with a train.

SATURDAY NIGHT IN HONG KONG.

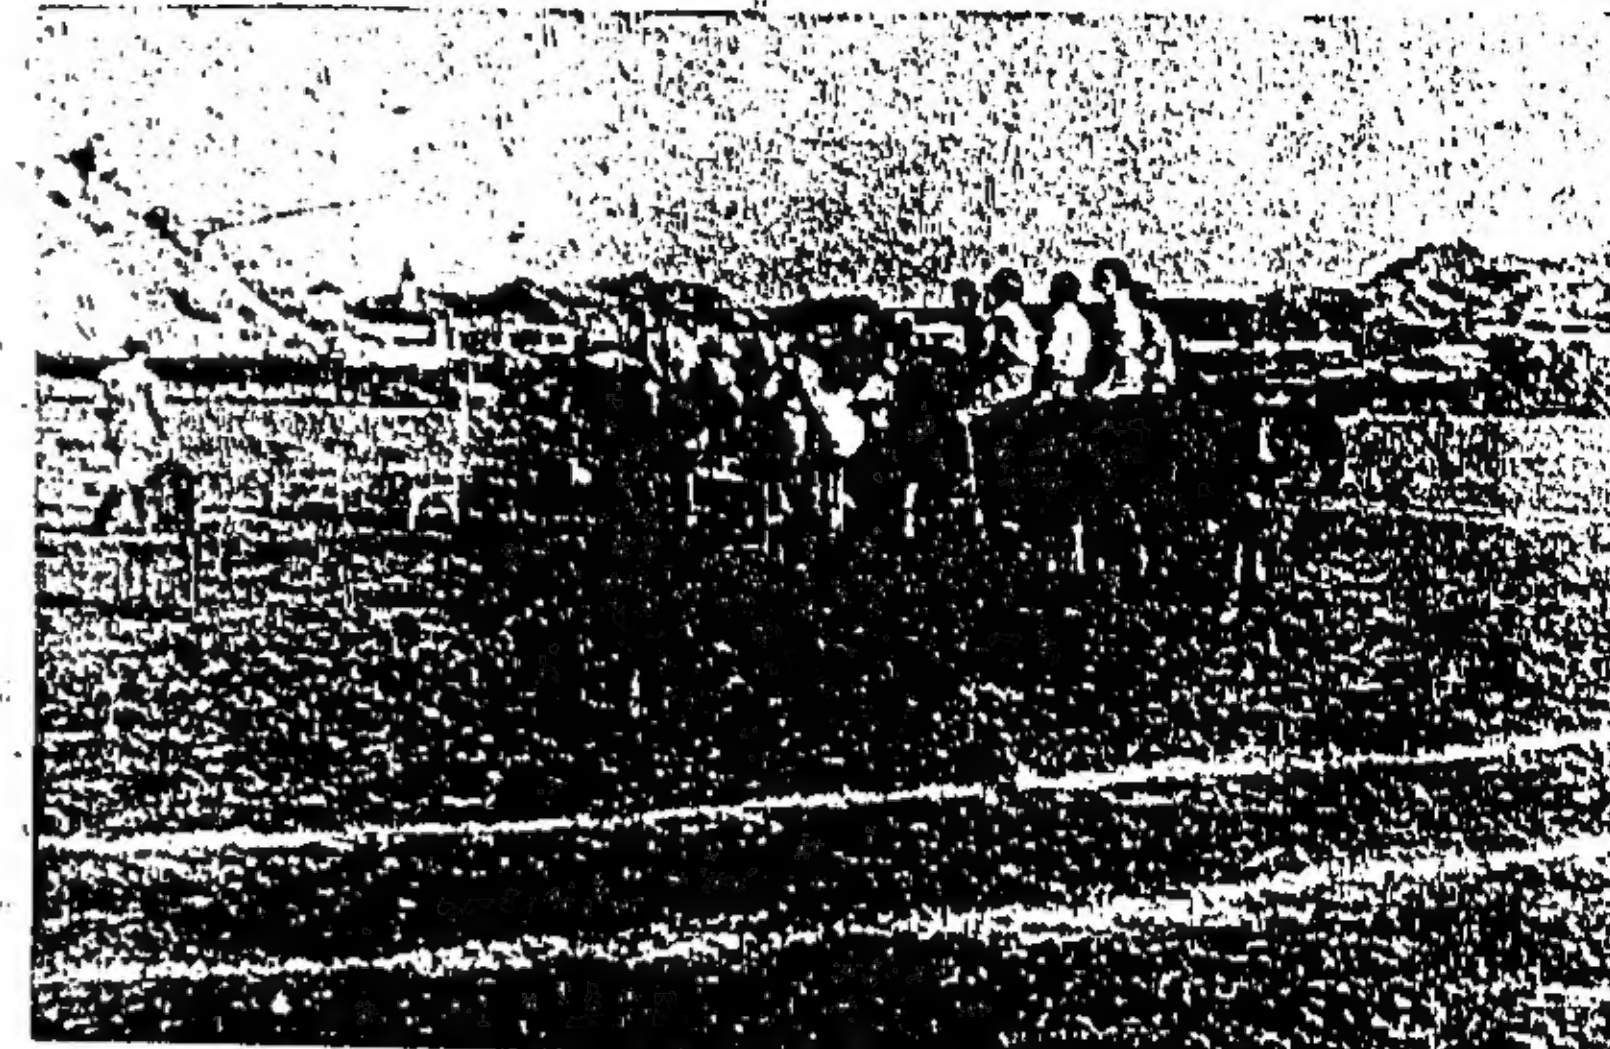

Saturday night in Hong Kong, and all the usual festivity in the air. One of the first people that we sighted was "Mac" McInley of A.D.C. repute who has just returned from leave. He was full of cheer, and like every body else tremendously impressed by the prosperity at Home, Mr. and Mrs. Taggart were dining together, and watching the dancers with great interest. There certainly were some interesting-looking people there—known and unknown to us.

One of the pleasantest sights of the evening was Barbara Hance in a gorgeous sort of tangerine coloured dress with touches of brown. Mrs. Cavanaugh—Mainwaring looked delicious in a rather Victorian off the shoulder dress of green with some sparkles about it, and Vera Hodgson looked awfully smart in the new ice blue. I caught a glimpse of the newly returned Mrs. Grossman in printed chiffon.

A BUSY WEDNESDAY

(BY "GRACE.")

Wednesday was a very gay and busy day for a lot of the elite of Lining up for the Musical Chair in the Gymkhana held on Nov. 3.

A BAY COCKTAIL PARTY.

On Wednesday evening to finish up a very busy day, there was a marvellous cocktail party at 405 the Peak given by Commander and Mrs. Hole in their lovely house. Practically all Hong Kong was there to sample cocktails from that new book "The Barmen." The concoctions called "Barton" and "Rose" were 'hot' favourites with everybody. It is impossible for me to tell you about all the people, as I have neither the time nor the space, but I know that everybody was very reluctant to leave even at 8.30 p.m. A bar was erected at one end of the room, and the barmen were Lt. Commander Crockett, Mr. Richard Johnston and Mr. James Whitlam. Mrs. Hole was in printed organdie and looked delightful, and she and her husband were admirable the way they looked after their guests. Sir Atholl and Lady MacGregor I met there, for the third time that day, Lady MacGregor was in black with touches of red, and Mrs. Sedgwick was in black also. Pretty Mrs. Andrews was in navy and white, with one of those fashionable "off the face" hats. Wing Commander and Mrs. Bishop were there a little late but we were all glad to see them, she was in a black satin cocktail dress with a large white collar later they were seen at the "Grips" for a short time.

A CONVIVIAL PARTY

Mrs. Johnston, looking very sweet in a cocktail ensemble, was seeing that her husband worked properly behind the counter. The Hance sisters enjoyed themselves I know, and cheerful Mrs. McAvoy was in dark red lace looking very nice. Heather and Betty Gerrard also arrived. Anne and Diana Dodwell came, with their mother, and Vera Hodgson was also present. The popular Jack MacGregor was, of course, present, and also Commander Tom Hussey, Captain and Mrs. Coltart were there and I am sure enjoyed the party immensely. Jackie Broome was responsible for the amusing picture of the author which hung over the bar. Unfortunately he was not able to come to the party as his car broke down while returning from Fanning, en route for 405 the Peak.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

The thirteenth annual sports meet of the South China Athletic Association takes place to-day at Caroline Hill.

The popular Harpiston's Circus now playing to capacity house each night in Kowloon have reduced their prices of admission to $2.20 for ring side seats; $1.10 for first chairs; 55 cents for carpet gallery and 30 cents for gallery. Service men in uniform are admitted to first chairs for 55 cents and carpet gallery for 30 cents. These popular prices to the most capital performances of its kind are inclusive of tax.

A number of excellent examples of advertising art, both in colour and in black and white, are embodied in the Autumn issue of "The Milligram," published by Messrs. Millington Ltd., Shanghai. As a frontispiece, a facsimile of the King's Jubilee Celebration programme cover is reproduced, while of interest to advertisers is an article on the value of white-space in Chinese advertising.

The Seventh Annual Photographic Exhibition of the Hong Kong University Amateur Photographic Club will take place at the Reading Room of Gloucester Hotel (with the kind permission of the management) from February 22 to 29, 1935. Dr. R. S. Regbie and Mrs. Regbie are passengers on the s/s Ranchi scheduled to arrive here on Nov. 14.

A dinner is to be held to-morrow at the Gloucester Hotel by the Hong Kong Chinese Medical Association, The University Medical Society and members of the British Medical Association.

Sir Shou Son Chow and Lady Chow returned to the Colony from Shanghai on Saturday by the Fushimi Maru.

The following forthcoming weddings are announced: Mr. Frederick Leopold Brown, patrolman of 16 Nullah Road, 1st floor, and Miss Nina Wilson residing at 23 Tai Po Road, second floor; Mr. Wilfred Augustus Chidlow, chemist, 281 Mary Blake, of St. Martin's Place,bury Road, and Miss Elizabeth Gosport, England.

JAPANESE MARINE KILLED BY CHINESE CIVILIAN

Nervousness Increased In Chapei

SERIOUS VIEW TAKEN OF INCIDENT

Naval Party Landed

The tense situation in North China has been aggravated by a fatal attack on a Japanese marine by a Chinese civilian in the neighbourhood of Chapei. Nervousness has increased and a general exodus from the district is expected.

A house to house search for the assailant has been carried out in Chapei. The assailant, whose identity is unknown, discarded the pistol with which he is alleged to have shot the marine at close range, and then fled to the Chinese city.

Japanese marines in full field equipment were posted on the boundary of the thickly populated Japanese section of the Settlement immediately after the incident and at daybreak they were still on patrol.

Shanghai, Nov. 10. Detachments of Japanese marines are patrolling the boundary of the Settlement and native city of Chapei following the alleged killing of a Japanese marine by a Chinese civilian near the Japanese naval headquarters.

The Chinese police are carrying out a house to house search in Chapei for the culprit.

It transpires that the Japanese victim was Hideo Nakayama, aged 23, who was shot and fatally wounded while he was walking along the Settlement road bordering Chapei.

"DIRECT PROVOCATION" A statement issued by the Japanese naval authorities describes the affair as "direct provocation" and demands thorough investigation by the Chinese authorities as well as Settlement police.

The Japanese Embassy in a statement says: "The attack on a sailor in uniform is a serious matter. We hope, in view of the rumours circulating in the past few days, that the Chinese authorities will take due measures to eliminate the dark clouds hovering over Sino-Japanese relations."

MARINES MOBILISED Immediately after the incident the Japanese naval authorities mobilised two hundred marines who were posted to the boundary of the thickly populated Japanese section of the Settlement.

A statement issued by the Japanese naval landing party describing the incident admits that the identity of the assailant is not known. A 32-calibre pistol loaded with four cartridges one of which was an empty shell was reported to have been found ninety yards from the scene of the shooting.

The Japanese deny that a brawl preceded the shooting and allege that the bullet struck the back of the head from close range.

STREETS DESERTED A tour in the early hours over the area of the crime revealed patrols and tin-hatted Japanese marines in full field kit in every street which was otherwise deserted.

All pedestrians were stopped and questioned, some of them being searched.

The Consul General, Mr. Ishii, is conferring this morning with the Secretary-General of the Government of Greater Shanghai.

The incident culminates weeks of rumours concerning the possibility of a Japanese move in Chapei, together with reports of huge Chinese troop concentrations round the Shanghai demilitarised zone.

Daybreak found the Japanese marines still patrolling the area of the shooting. Sikh police carrying rifles were posted nearby.

An air of tension is prevailing in the district and a general exodus of Chinese is expected.

Reuter.

TENSION RELAXED

Shanghai, Nov. 10. The tension arising from the Nakayama outrage was somewhat relieved this evening as representatives of General Tsi Chai Chun, Chief of the Chinese Bureau of Public Safety, Mayor Wu Teh Chen and other Chinese officials proffered to the Japanese naval authorities their assurances of full co-operation in the investigation of the outrage.

The Japanese Naval Attaché in a statement denied rumours of any demands having been made. However, streams of Chinese, fearful of a repetition of the 1932 invasion, are leaving their homes in Chapei for the safety of the Settlement where the hotels are packed. Shops in Chapei have drawn their shutters and many have been abandoned.

Meanwhile the Japanese police are carrying out enquiries on the basis that the slayer was a Chinese, but it is understood that the Settlement police are also studying the theory that the crime resulted from a private vendetta between compatriots.

Japanese marines are still patrolling the city.

COUNCIL ABOLITION

Tientsin, Nov. 10.

If General Chiang Kai Shek, Chairman of the Military Affairs Commission, refuses to dissolve the Peiping branch of the National Military Council, the situation arising from the recent Japanese protests will assume serious proportions. It was confidently pointed out here in Japanese circles today, in connection with the death of a Japanese bluejacket yesterday.

Both General Song Che Yuan, Peiping-Tientsin defence commander, and General Shang Chen, Chairman of the Hopei Provincial Government, are stated to be firmly determined to press for its abolition in view of its alleged prejudice regarding Sino-Japanese friendship.

If the Nanking Government fails to take effective steps in this connection, it is thought not unlikely that the two local leaders will attempt to bring about complete separation from the Nanking regime, according to Japanese reports.

Upon receipt of the Japanese protests, General Fao Wen Yeh, acting chairman of the Peiping branch of the National Military Council, is understood to have asked General Chiang Kai Shek for directions to dispose of the organ.

REPORTED AGREEMENT

Peiping, Nov. 10. An important agreement regarding North China has been reached, according to information in Chinese circles, between General Chiang Kai Shek and General Yen Hsi Shan, pacification commissioner for the Talyuan area.

General Yen will be given the highest authority in North China, both civil and military, to enable him to maintain the influence there of the Nanking Government. It is reported.

The plan is said to provide for his appointment as pacification commissioner for Hopei Province, with command of the military administration in Shantung, Chahar and the Peiping-Tientsin area.

It is believed that his headquarters will be established at Paoting. The Generalissimo is even stated to have decided to grant $8,000,000 for General Yen's temporary military expenses.

General Yen will also be given the power to recommend appointees for the chairmanship of the Hopei Provincial Government and the mayoralties of Peiping and Tientsin, which will be confirmed by the Nanking Government.

RUMOURED LOAN TO CHINA

Strong Japanese Comment

Tokyo, Nov. 10.

An alleged attack on British intentions in regard to Chinese finance has been issued in the form of a vigorous communiqué by the Japanese War Office.

It refers to rumours of a $50,000,000 loan being negotiated by China with Britain (which the British Ambassador denied on November 6) to be secured on surplus customs and railway revenue.

The communiqué says that if this is true the leaders of the Nanking Government cannot escape criticism for selling their country to foreigners for their own aggrandisement. Japan, as a stabilising influence in the Far East, cannot overlook an attempt on the part of Britain to place semi-colonial China under the domination of British capital.

The communiqué forecasts that the new Chinese currency reform scheme will result in Chinese bank notes sooner or later becoming worthless.

READINESS FOR PEACE

Sir Samuel Hoare's Statement

London, Nov. 9.

"The British people are determined to keep their word to join any honourable attempt to end the Ethiopian war and throw the whole weight of the scales for world peace," declared the Foreign Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare in his speech at the Lord Mayor's banquet at the Guildhall, "but if we are to defend the cause of peace we must be able to defend ourselves and fully participate in any collective action."

"The serious gap in Imperial defence could not be allowed to remain a tribute to the solidarity of the British Empire in the present crisis. Mr. Eden and I could never have carried out the work in Geneva if it had not been for the fact that we had constantly at our side the representatives of the Dominions and India to give us wise advice and steady support."

"Time after time the representatives of the Dominions gave the League invaluable help and it made clear to the world that the policy for which they stood was considered to be the abiding judgment of the whole of the British Empire. Our clear and firm support of the policy of peace raised British prestige higher than it has been for many years."

Rome, November 9.

The official communiqué number 41 issued here on Saturday confirming the occupation of Gorahai states that on the northern front some armed Abyssinian detachments were defeated and were made prisoners by the Italian patrols and that the local chieftain in Selakiaka had surrendered voluntarily and placed himself and his warriors under the Italian command. The clergy and notables of Ad'e region had likewise made their submission.

The communiqué then announces the occupation of Gorahai by the troops of General Graziani and goes on to say "the enemy are in flight and left cannons, machine guns, motor lorries, hundreds of rifles, and great quantities of foodstuffs in our hands. Despite the high level of Fafan river our troops continue in pursuit of the enemy."

The Air Force played an effective part in preparing and carrying out of the operation of the last few days. Already two hours after the occupation of Makale one of the airplanes has effected a landing on the Makale flying field.

PROTECTION OF RAILWAY

Addis Ababa, Nov. 9.

The governor of the province of Kaffa, Ras Guetatiha has been instructed by the Emperor to make all necessary preparations for the protection of Djibouti railway line in Diredda region. It is planned to establish numerous fortified positions in the hills near Diredda, the positions to be well equipped with machine guns.

These measures are being taken as a result of reliable reports that the Italians are planning a new drive from Danakil desert and Aussa district towards the railway line.

The struggle for the Italian market which appears imminent between two mighty oil groups, the Standard Oil and the British combine of Anglo-Persian and Royal Dutch, is attracting much attention here.

According to London reports, British oil interests appear to be averse to suspending deliveries to Italy, since otherwise the field would be taken over entirely by American competition, but it is held here that in view of the proposed Italian measures of retaliation against the sanctions, countries, a British concern has small prospects of holding its own in the struggle.

It is noticeable that several papers take the opportunity to stress "the traditional and cordial relations" existing between Italy and the American oil interests.

QUESTION OF SANCTIONS

Attitude Of States In America

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894.
Received, November 10, 7.30 p.m.)

Rome, Nov. 10.

The attitude of the North and South American States to the question of sanctions was discussed by the semi-official "Giornale d'Italia" which, after pointing out that the United States as well as Brazil being outside the League of Nations and consequently not bound by the decision taken at Geneva, goes on to recall that Argentina is prevented by the constitutional parliament from applying the sanctions until a decision has been before next May, whilst Chile, Paraguay, Panama are making important reservations.

The paper believes this unwillingness to participate in sanctions on the part of so many American States is due on the one hand to the greater comprehension of the Italian claims and aspirations and on the other to the fact that the geographical and political position of America tends to render them independent of Geneva.

According to the correspondent, upwards of 200 pursuit planes are stationed at Ismailia, and two new military aerodromes manifestly destined for heavy machines are now in process of construction in this region.

The correspondent calculates that Great Britain has now more than 2,000 airplanes at her disposal in Egypt and adds that this number is steadily increasing every week.

Although exceptionally heavy rains fell throughout the night and continued until late this morning, the weather cleared and the sun was shining when the new Lord Mayor of London preceded by imposing procession made his historic progress from the Guild Hall to the Law Courts when the statutory declaration of office was made.

As usual, the Lord Mayor's show attracted great crowds to the streets traversed. The pageant of agriculture and country life forming the central feature of the show. One of the exhibits in the procession was a complete pack of hounds from the old Berkeley Hunt. Probably never before has such a spectacle been seen in London streets.

In addition to the interests of agriculture and work and sport in the countryside, the procession included as usual a large number of bands of the representatives of armed forces of the Crown.

WEEK-END FOOTBALL

The "Chinese Derby"
Fought To A Draw

Even with the Interport Cricket match which was played on Saturday local football enthusiasts did not fail to turn out to witness the major league matches. The football in general was not of a very high standard, and there were no upsets in the Senior Division games. One rather unfortunate incident was the mishap to Keneghan, the Fusiliers' brilliant centre-half, who broke his leg during the encounter with the Récrole. The Police lived up to expectations by beating the Saints and retaining their unbeaten record.

Of Sunday's matches China Athletic drew with South China "B" in a well contested game which was somewhat spoiled by the constant blowing of the whistle. The East Lanes had little difficulty in defeating the R. A. Stonecutters and ran out winners by 6 goals to 1.

THE CHINESE DERBY.

In a fast and thrilling encounter the Chinese Derby between the China Athletic and S. China "B" ended in a goalless draw. The game was fought out at a fast pace and a feature of it was the excellent work of both defences which were always on top of the respective set of forwards, but the game was somewhat spoiled by the incessant blowing of the whistle. Early in the first half the S. China goal was subjected to a constant attack and it was the cool goal-keeping of Pau Ka Ping that kept the score board blank. Pau was clearing, anticipating and positioning as well as ever and many of the shots which he saved would have beaten many other goal-keepers.

In the second half when the Athletic goal was attacked hotly it was Siu Ting Nin in goal who kept the wolves at bay. He was ably backed up by Mak So and Fung Kai Hing. The latter in particular was very effective with his first time clearances. Mak So partnered him well and between the two of them helped no doubt in a great way by the intermediate line in Lo Wai Kuen, Lai Kwok Chiu and Wong Wai Hing, they managed to keep South China from scoring. During the greater part of the game Athletic played with only ten men, Tang Kwong Sum being incapacitated towards the end of the first half. This best Athletic forward on view was undoubtedly Chau Man Chi, whose clever dribbling and elusive methods compromised South China's defence. His several shots at goal especially in the closing stages should have met with a better fate.

The game started with the Athletic attacking strongly, but poor finishing robbed them of their fruits of well conceived attacks. Pau was called on to deal with shots from Chau Man Chi, Ho Chor Yin and Yung Kan Po and he discharged his duties admirably. Now and again South China made a sporadic raid but was repulsed. Towards the end of the first half Tang Kwong Sum was injured and although he came in after the interval he was more or less a passenger until he was told to leave the field.

In the second half the run of the play was reversed, with South China doing most of the attacking, and once again it was the defence that kept them away.

LANCS v. R. A.

A very dull and one-sided game was witnessed at Sookunpoo yesterday when the East Lanes proved too good for R. A. Stonecutters and walked away with a 6 goals to 1 victory.

The soccer, in general, for a first division encounter was below standard, the Gunners did not at any time of the game fully extend the soldiers. Their combination was poor and they were never safe in their defence. The East Lanes played their usual steady game and were sound in all departments, their forwards especially finding little difficulty in penetrating the weak R.A. defence.

The East Lanes opened their account through Mather who ran in with the ball on the right wing and drove in a hard shot which struck the upright and rebounded into the net. Sandford was ever alert and was always a source of worry to the R.A. defence, but he could not get his foot to a good shot. However, he was rewarded soon afterwards, when a hard drive from Mather on the right wing was fumbled by the R.A. defence and he ran in to put the ball into an open goal.

Soon afterwards they went still further ahead when they were awarded a free kick and Sandford received a tricky pass and made no mistake with a hard drive. The soldiers continued to press and half time came with them leading by three goals.

On the resumption the East Lanes piled the score up to six.

The R.A. tried very hard to register at least a single goal and their efforts were rewarded just before full time when Coyle got his foot to a running shot and beat Harnsworth with a terrific drive.

CLUB THROWS AWAY CHANCES

The Club Senior eleven had all the opportunities of lowering the colours and supremacy of the South China "A" league champion of the past season, when the two teams met in their Senior League encounter on Saturday, but the many chances that they threw away during the earlier part of the game resulted in their downfall, and in the end they had to admit defeat by 2 goals to 1, after fully extending the Champions throughout the game.

The Club opened with plenty of confidence and their speed and determination kept the Chinese constantly on the move, but they seemed to lack a really effective leader. The glorious chances that came their way either by bad marksmanship of Ernie Strange or the over-eagerness of Fowler and Elliott.

In defence the Club was very sound, Roger being outstandingly brilliant during the last 10 minutes of the first half when he saved innumerable shots from all angles. He was the better of the backs saving many a threatening situation by prompt tackling and clearing. A common fault with the defence was slowness in clearing. Hill and Robertson being the only exceptions.

The halves showed little understanding, and Gilchrist on the left flank was hopelessly lost by the speedy passing between Tso and Lee Wai-tung. Skinner performed woefully in the centre-half position by checking Lee's activities so well, seldom moving far from the latter's side, and allowing Lee probably fewer chances than he has had in many games.

CLUB SCORES

The Chinese halves were kept very busy throughout the play as their defence seemed to be below form. They were compelled to drop back to help and thus giving very little assistance to their attack.

The game opened with the Club doing most of the attacking, and a nice piece of work between Bickford and E. Strange gave Fowler a good chance of opening the score, but he missed the ball completely.

Then Lee got possession from a pass by Tay and manoeuvred into position and took a shot, placing the ball just beyond Rodger, which gave him no chance whatsoever. With this lead of 1 goal to nil, South China began to attack strongly.

On the resumption, the Club had yet another chance of getting on level terms but Ernie Strange sent the ball well over the cross bar. Shortly afterwards Forrow tested Wong Wing who saved a dangerous shot.

South China went still further ahead when Lee Wai-tung flashed up a pass and made no mistake with a beautiful drive which beat Rodger all the way.

Although the Club were 1 goal down they did not give up in their attack and a fine move between Bickford and Gilchrist gave Fowler the opportunity to reduce the Chinese lead with a well placed header into the net.

The Police maintained their unbeaten record of the present season when they defeated the Saints by 3 goals to 1 in their Senior League encounter on the Navy ground on Saturday.

Taking into consideration the splendid form the Police have shown in their previous league encounters, yesterday's match was dull in comparison. The soccer throughout was not of a very high standard, and there was a marked lack in the combination of both the teams.

The only notable feature of the whole game was the splendid effort of Johnson who netted all the 3

RUGBY

Club Defeats Army

In a mediocre rugby game played at Sookunpoo on Saturday, the Club avenged their defeat at the hands of the Army a few weeks ago by beating the latter team by 14 points to 6.

A feature of the game was the improvement shown by the Club's halves.

The Club opened the scoring after 10 minutes through a penalty goal for off-side, Scott taking the kick. Not long after the Army were again penalised, but Riggs failed to land a goal. Just before the interval Butcher broke through in a splendid effort and sent a long pass out to Wilson for the centre to cross the Army line for the first try, which Riggs failed to improve upon.

A Fine Try.

Then came one of the finest tries of the game, when Wilson gathered a very low pass while on the run, and dived over the line with three opponents on top of him. Riggs converted.

Just before the end Davies went over for the Army, following a movement originating from a line-out, but Hutchinson failed to add the points.

goals for the Police. Stevens and Green showed flashes of their true selves but they lacked finishing power which in the long run was to the benefit of the Saints, who otherwise may have suffered a still greater defeat.

In the second half Johnson received a pass from Moss and scored again with a good left foot drive.

NAVY DEFEATS R.A.

A fast and clean game was witnessed at the Valley on Saturday when the Navy met and defeated the R.A. Lynmen by 4 goals to 3 in a First Division League match.

The Navy fully deserved their win, but the Gunners certainly received all praise for the splendid display they put up. A splendid passing movement by Waremouth and Grey resulted in the latter placing the Navy in the lead from a close shot. They kept this lead until the interval, and on the resumption the Gunners came in very strongly and completely outplayed the Navy, eventually succeeding in levelling the score through Edmunds.

Waremouth, who was playing well, then made a fine solo run down the wing and, with a splendid cross-shot, succeeded in bringing the score level again. Less than five minutes later, Waremouth netted again from a centre from Doran—a beautiful shot well wide of Durham's reach. The Navy went further ahead after 25 minutes through Grey. A break-away by the Gunners in the last minute of the game saw them score their third goal, Morton netting from a through pass by Worthington.

KOWLOON v. LINCOLNS

A very one-sided game was seen at Kowloon on Saturday when the home team was defeated by the Lincoln's by 4 goals to 1. The improved form shown by the Kowloon team last week was merely a flash in the pan, for on Saturday they were no match for the soldiers.

As a mark of respect for one of their committee members, Mr. W. M. Johnston who had died on Saturday morning, the Kowloon team turned out wearing white jerseys with black bands on their arms.

Just after the game started the troops in the stand again stood up as a mark of respect to the Colonel of the Lincolnshire Regiment, Major-General C. S. Simson, C.B., who with other Officers of the Regiment, had come to witness the match.

The Lincoln's opened the scoring after five minutes' play. Baldry centred for Higgins to force Boyes to concede a corner, and from the resultant kick by Baldry, Higgins headed the ball goalwards for Ridley to deflect it past Boyes.

The Lincoln's again took the lead after 20 minutes, Ma'pass taking a pass from Ridley to score with a hard right-footed drive which Boyes did not see.

The last goal of the match, the Lincoln's fourth, was scored after 25 minutes in the second half, and was easily the best goal of the match. Clayton sent a long lob right across the goalmouth and Baldry waded in to score with a first-time left-footed drive.

RECREIO v FUSILIERS

A rather unfortunate incident marred the game between the Recreio and the Fusiliers on Saturday, when the two teams met in a First Division encounter. Keneghan the Fusiliers' brilliant centre

FINCHER'S SPLENDID BATTING DISPLAY

SHAKY START BY H. K. IN INTERPORT TUSSLE

Shanghai Batting To-day

Starting disastrously Hong Kong lost three valuable wickets for 38 runs in the 35th Interport Cricket encounter between Hong Kong and Shanghai played on Saturday on the H.K.C.C. ground, but a determined fourth wicket partnership between E. C. Fincher and C. C. Garthwaite which yielded 113 runs literally put a stop to the rot.

At the close of play on Saturday, Hong Kong had scored 213 runs and Shanghai going in to bat had lost two wickets for 56 runs.

Fincher gave an all round display scoring freely on his leg side. His 72 in a very patient innings was very commendable.

Garthwaite gave as fine a performance as ever. He refused to be beguiled by Pat Madar's deliveries and after scoring 50 he however tried one of "let her go" and was instantly snapped up by Booth.

Hong Kong won the toss and E. Pearce and E. C. Fincher opened. Pearce was caught in the slip by Pat Madar off Booth when the ball glanced off his glove. Worse was to follow when T. A. Pearce failed to get hold of a half volley from Pat Madar and was caught in the country by Harry Madar.

Hong Kong had by then scored 25 runs for the loss of two wickets. Father and son each claimed four.

A. H. Madar came in and it looked as if big things were going to happen when he was given lbw off Leach's bowling which looked very doubtful from the Pavilion, the ball being somewhat high and glanced off Madar's thigh. Only 13 runs had been added by then, Madar claiming 11 and Fincher two more 38-3-11.

Things were beginning to look pretty bad for the Home team when Garthwaite joined Fincher. Garthwaite refused to try any of Pat Madar's smoozers. He was playing a steady game and was timing his strokes perfectly hitting the ball with the middle of his bat.

Fincher was keeping his end up admirably. These two players added 113 runs before Fincher was caught by H. Madar off Pat Madar's delivery. He was hesitant in taking the delivery and managed to hit the ball half way. Garthwaite stayed on and after passing the half century was caught. By now Hong Kong had recovered from 33 for 3 to 151 for 4. Tom Hayward the local skipper came in then and after Garthwaite had left him, Pearce scored only two and had to retire when he was bowled by Leach, 163-6-2.

Ricketts after a shaky start settled down very promisingly. He had scored 11 when he was bowled by Pat Madar, 190-7-11.

Minu was given a big clap when he went out to join Hayward and delighted the spectators with his fire works when in two successive deliveries off Pat Madar he sent the ball to the boundary. After scoring another single Minu in the next over mistimed and lofted a skier and was caught by H. Madar, 208-8-9.

Hayward who had by now scored 28 runs was joined by Dunkley and in sending a ball to the leg side was caught by Stokes.

Perera came in and after scoring a single was stumped by Kermani. Hong Kong closed its innings at 213.

SHANGHAI COMMENCE

Humphreys and Stokes opened for Shanghai. Humphreys had scored two before being cleaned bowled by Perera. Stokes who had monopolised the batting up till now had scored 34 runs when he was well caught by Garthwaite off T. A. Pearce. Kermani and R. Booth were batting when stumps were drawn with Kermani having scored 10 and Booth 2.

Shanghai's bowling on the whole did not impress as being strong. It never looked dangerous but nevertheless it was accurate.

Pat Madar did a good day's work by collecting 7 wickets for 78 runs. Leach bowled heroically throughout.

The game will be resumed to-day at 11.45 a.m. when the Shanghai team will continue with their batting.

POLICE v. C. SERVICE.

On the Police ground on Saturday the Police R.C. beat the Civil Service Cricket Club juniors in a friendly cricket match by 4 wickets.

The visitors batted first and scored 77 runs, their last six wickets falling for no runs. The Police replied with 127 runs for 9 wickets. T. Loughlin being top-scorer with 54 not out. He hit eight boundaries during his stay at the wicket.

C.S.C.:—77 (F. Harper 33, R. Davis 35, Danbrowsky, 4 for 5).

Police 127 for 9 (T. Loughlin 54, not out, F. J. Ling 4 for 33, R. D. Ling 2 for 17).

SAILORS AT PLAY.

In a friendly cricket match at Happy Valley H.M.S. Midway beat a team from H.M.S. Capetown by 80 runs.

The winners batted first and scored 83, Napkville being top scorer with 24. H.M.S. Capetown could only manage 33 in reply. Bartlett, 5 for 6, being mainly responsible for their collapse.

YACHTING

Joss Again Victorious.

Mr. J. R. L. Stanton on Saturday repeated his success of last week when he sailed Joss to victory in the Royal Hong Kong Yacht Club's "A" Class race over a distance of 7.3 miles. Lobo (Col. J. A. Griffin) was second, while True Blue (Major Thoyts) occupied third place.

In the "G" Class event, Gael (Capt. Trimble) was first and Lola (Major J. Wren) second, while the "T" and "Y" Class race resulted in a win for Alisa (Mr. R. B. Williams), which finished ahead of Heron (Mr. T. C. Fairburn).

Rolla (Col. E. Kirke) beat Diana (Mr. P. Ramus) for pride of place in the "H" Class event.

ITALO-ETHIOPIAN CONFLICT UNDER SURVEY

Rival Plans And Forces Considered

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 20. However it sways in the near future, or after this war and its repercussions will alter the balance of world-politics and change the fortunes of the British Empire. It is no little war. In scene, size, and implications it is a struggle unparalleled of the kind. Some of the military critics, though not all, have hastened to write with the passion of politicians.

We shall comment on the course of an astonishing drama, and on facts and probabilities as they emerge. Once more we repeat our warning that the sequel is unpredictable. Between the Red Sea and the Nile the backgrounds of the different fronts are wild mountains and gorges; or arid scrubland and broken valleys; or blistering desert. A quarter of a million men are engaged on the Italian side; three-quarters of a million on the other. Equipped with every modern device, the Italian operations are singularly marked by caution and design. On paper this is a war guided by a great plan. To see whether execution is successful or frustrated will be an ever-memorable study.

ADOWA AND BEYOND

Adowa was within General de Bono's grasp. This shrewd commander risked nothing. In the dusk, but his troops easily occupied the town. They brought with them and erected a marble memorial to the dead of 1896, made by workmen-soldiers at Florence.

In three days these massive operations carried the bulk of the northern Italian army from Eritrea across the deep Mareb valley to the top of the opposite, tableland. Nowhere was any main body of the Abyssinians encountered. The physical obstacles, on the other hand, were immense, though surmounted by remarkable organisation. From the Mareb river the invaders had to ascend 3,000 feet and more—a task for a whole army like climbing Snowdon or Scafell. The hanging, twisting tracks were often crazy enough to make even mules nervous. From the tableland rose on all sides that well-known feature of the Abyssinian scene—the strange, isolated masses of rock called ambas, with flat tops and sheer sides each like a huge natural castle. The worst experience was the suffocating heat of the Mareb valley after the rains. The high plateau is healthier, though bitter cold at night.

The positions from Adowa to Adigat were firmly held. Only then was revealed the engineering method which promises to stamp this war in the north. The Labour Corps, workmen and fighters too, fell to their job of transforming the tracks. By epic energy, night and day, they began to carry solid roads up to the front and beyond it. The tactical lessons of 1896 are strategically applied. Then, the doomed brigades, losing direction and connection, were separately overwhelmed. Now the three army corps are strongly linked together. Foreign experts emphasise that for liaison as well as reconnaissance and bombing, the air-force has been of inestimable service. By now passes and summits far ahead of the Adowa-Entisbo-Adigat front have been occupied in preparation for another general advance.

THE "GREAT NORTH ROAD"

Will the Abyssinians in force seek to resist this next great push, or will they still delay their attempt at a heavy counter-stroke? The official version is that the Italians are to be drawn on to one of the terrible catastrophes of history. We are told that enormous Ethiopian armies, numbering about 400,000 altogether, are gathering against General de Bono. Half are massed under Ras Seyyem against the Italian drive southward. The other half, under that most powerful of the feudatories, Ras Kassa, and other chiefs, are said to be mustering in Amhara proper. There, from the region well north of Gondar and Lake Tana, they would attempt to fall upon the right flank of the invaders and to attack the rear of those lengthening communications whereon the Italians wholly depend. At present, General de Bono's corps and most of the forces under Ras Kassa are separated by the far-stretching canyon of the Takazze, one of the big rifts in the fissured geography of High Abyssinia.

Events alone can show what substance lies in these vast rumours. General de Bono has to take chief precautions on the side of the Takazze gorge, where the scouting activities of his air-force have been intense. He cannot begin to feel safe in that direction until he has taken Aksum—westward of Adowa—and the heights beyond. As even Macaulay's schoolboy knows by now, Aksum of immemorial antiquity is the sacred city of the Ethiopians. Unless hindered by immediate menace to their right flank, the Italians will attempt forthwith a far deeper advance. As has been mentioned, they have already taken passes and summits ahead. Especially near Adagamus, where, in a freezing wind and just in the nick of time, they seized an overlooking mountain 9,000 feet above sea level; and then pressed onward. Their next principal objective is Makalle, some thirty miles ahead on the route which goes some hundreds of miles further to Addis Ababa. This route—Adowa-Makalle-Dessaleh—Ankober-Addis Ababa—is High Abyssinia's nearest equivalent to what we should call a great north road.

TRIUMPH OR CATASTROPHE. If the Italians reach Makalle they will again pause and prepare. The natural conditions then would enable them to establish the strongest possible front between the Takazze gorge on their right and the outward ramparts of High Abyssinia on their left. Across the gorge are the district of Simen, unequalled even in Abyssinia for peaks and precipices. There the loftiest summit, Ras Dashan, soars to over 15,000 feet and neighbouring giants almost rival his stature.

Some ardent correspondents suggest that General de Bono may send a force across the Takazze and through the towering and intricate Simen country towards Gondar and Lake Tana. To do this would be to plunge into the labyrinth, with the probability of destruction for the force thus hazarded. To conquer the Amhara region—originally one of the most ancient kingdoms of Ethiopia—might well tax a separate army not inferior in numbers and efficiency to that which General de Bono already commands. A parallel invasion through the Amhara region towards Gondar and Lake Tana would be too like the ambition of Cambyses.

On the chief front, at least, the Italians are only now coming to their searching difficulties. Much, indeed, may depend on the result of General de Bono's impending thrust towards Makalle. Fate swings in this balance. If he succeeds, while keeping his right flank and his communications firmly guarded, there may appear to be no reason why, after another pause for reorganisation, he should not make yet another long stride beyond Makalle. But it will still be over 200 miles to Addis Ababa, and his forces at every stage would be weakened relatively to the difficulties. On the one hand, as communications lengthened out, men and mechanism would have to be left behind to hold them. On the other hand, the Italians will have to cope with accumulating numbers the farther they go. All information agrees that the Emperor has assembled his largest and best-furnished army in the region about Dessaleh, midway between Makalle and Addis Ababa.

CONVERGING STRATEGY. Dessaleh on the great north road is a junction. The Italians were to carry a motor road up to it from Eritrea under their abortive Treaty of Friendship with the Negus in 1902. At present from this point eastward the mountainous and across the Danakil desert to the prosperous Sultanate of Aussa and thence to Assab on the Red Sea. Assab itself has now been converted into a fortified base, especially equipped for air-craft; and well inland from that the Ita-

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE

Diamond Jubilee Celebrations

In connection with the Diamond Jubilee Celebrations of St. Joseph's College, one of the oldest educational institutions in the Far East, the Right Rev. Bishop Valtorta said a Pontifical Mass at the College Chapel on Saturday morning which was attended by many clergy, the Brothers and also past and present students.

In the course of his sermon, His Lordship said inter alia:—

"A Diamond Jubilee is a great event in the history of any institution. To-day shall we congratulate the Brothers? Most certainly. Most certainly we must not only congratulate them, but we must do something more. We must congratulate also the pupils who have received their education from them. The Brothers have made a great success in the Colony. Two big Colleges stand as monuments of their coming to Hong Kong—they are monuments of their success."

"Thousands have received their education from the Brothers. Whatever success they have attained in life, it is 'due to the Brothers."

Plans have occupied positions on and about the mountain-mass called Mussa Ali. From this quarter they expect in due course to launch central offensives against the vitals of Amharic rule.

One of these offensives would seek to take in the rear the huge Abyssinian forces between Dessaleh and General de Bono. Other attacks are likely to be directed against the indispensable railway bridge at Awash. Or against Dire-dawa, which is the chief town on the railway between the sea and Addis Ababa, and is also the station for Harrar. This famous Moslem city, which has only belonged to the Abyssinians since 1894, is much more important for the war than Addis Ababa itself. Towards Harrar, accordingly, the Italians are already striking hard from the south. Central attacks from the Assab and Mussa Ali bases are not likely to develop just yet, but later may reveal a complete plan of converging strategy for the Italian operations as a whole.

FIGHT FOR HARRAR

Less massive than the main invasion under General de Bono is the southern offensive towards the Harrar region. Its beginnings deserve close attention. This campaign is under General Graziani, accounted one of the boldest and ablest of Italian military leaders. His troops, mostly native, are first-class fighters, well provided with mechanised transport, including water supply, a signal advantage in Ogaden, where the wells are few and far between. Covered by numbers of light tanks and aircraft this advance goes forward on a front between British Somaliland and the valley of the Tug Fafan. In some few days General Graziani is expected to arrive at Sassabaneh, little more than a hundred miles from the high escarpments covering the line from Harrar to Jijiga.

Near that line a struggle of increasing severity may soon become decisive. Were General Graziani repulsed the consequences might be hard. If he takes Harrar and then gets astride the railway his signal victory might have a sweeping moral effect in these wide territories which were brought under Abyssinia only within the life-time of men now in middle age. There are signs of loosening allegiance even in Tigre, where legitimists of the House of Solomon never have been reconciled to the Shoaan dynasty, much less to the present Negus. But the Emperor and his advisers, while covering Harrar with large forces in high positions, are well known to have planned a counter-stroke by masses of tribesmen from the nearest Galla provinces. These warriors were to move downwards towards Italian Somalia, where, however, the defensive network is highly organised. The fortunes of the next two weeks, both in north and south should throw light upon issues now incalculable.

WORLD CHESS TITLE. Amsterdam Nov. 9. The 17th game of the world championship chess match ended in a draw on Saturday. The score now reads Alekhine 6 Ruys 5 with six games drawn.

HOCKEY

Ladies In Friendly Tussle

The Hong Kong Ladies and the C.B.A. Ladies shared four goals in a friendly hockey match played on Saturday at King's Park.

The Hong Kong Ladies should have won as they were the superior side. Miss J. Dalziel, led the forwards well and scored both the goals. Miss B. Hance was a tower of strength in the defence.

Miss P. Best, the C.B.A. keeper, was in fine fettle clearing anything that came her way while Miss M. Bryson their centre half worked hard to keep the Hong Kong Ladies in check. Miss M. Smith who netted both the goals to equalise kept the opposing defence on their toes.

"Y" WIN

Making her debut for the "Y" Ladies on Saturday Miss G. Adey made an auspicious start by scoring all the four goals that gave the "Y" their victory over the St. Andrew's Ladies.

The St. Andrew's Ladies were totally out of form, where their former excellent cohesion and team work which was so much in evidence was lacking on Saturday. Mrs. Rose (R) their custodian was the only player to shine.

RECREIO LADIES DEFEATED

Much against the run of the play, the Hong Kong Ladies second string defeated the Recreio 1st XI on Saturday by the odd goal in three. Mrs. Davies the Hong Kong Ladies right winger sent down some perfectly good centres and was ably supported by Miss Smalley and Miss Strahan.

For the Recreio Miss E. Xavier, Miss B. Remedios and Miss E. Rozario were the pick of the team.

The Hong Kong Ladies opened the scoring in the opening-half through Miss Flex, who netted from an oblique angle through a crowd of players, and just before the interval Miss Blackburn scored from the edge of the circle.

In the second half Miss E. Rozario scored with an excellent shot after dribbling from the edge of the circle.

"Y" Men At Play

In a very scrappy game the "Y" men's team drew with the H.K.S. R.A. on Saturday on the Marina ground by three goals all.

Kishan Singh opened the scoring for the Army team one minute from the commencement, and S. Fowler equalised about two of three minutes later. From that point onwards it was a ding-dong struggle, the play shifting consistently from one end of the field to the other.

Kishan Singh scored again just before half-time, and again S. Fowler equalised. Gurdeep Singh scored for the H.K.S.R.A. in the second half, while W. Brown netted the "Y's" third goal.

RADIO SWAMP SAILORS.

In a friendly hockey game played yesterday on the Radio Ground the Home team defeated the H.M.S. Capetown by 10 goals to nil.

The game was a very one sided affair with the Radio doing most of the attacking. They scored 7 goals in the first half and three in the second. The scorers were G. Singh (4), Chowhury (3) and Jagjit Singh, Jagir Singh and Surjajahan Singh.

"SANATOGEN will soon put him right again"

Physicians know by experience, how quickly and surely Sanatogen will build up strength in debilitated patients.

Whatever the cause of the weakness, be it illness, overwork or worry, Sanatogen cannot fail to do good. The phosphorus it contains is pure strength to the weakened nerve-cells. The albumin is nature's own building material of bodily power. It is the intricate combination of these two elements that has won Sanatogen the written recommendations of over 25,000 physicians.

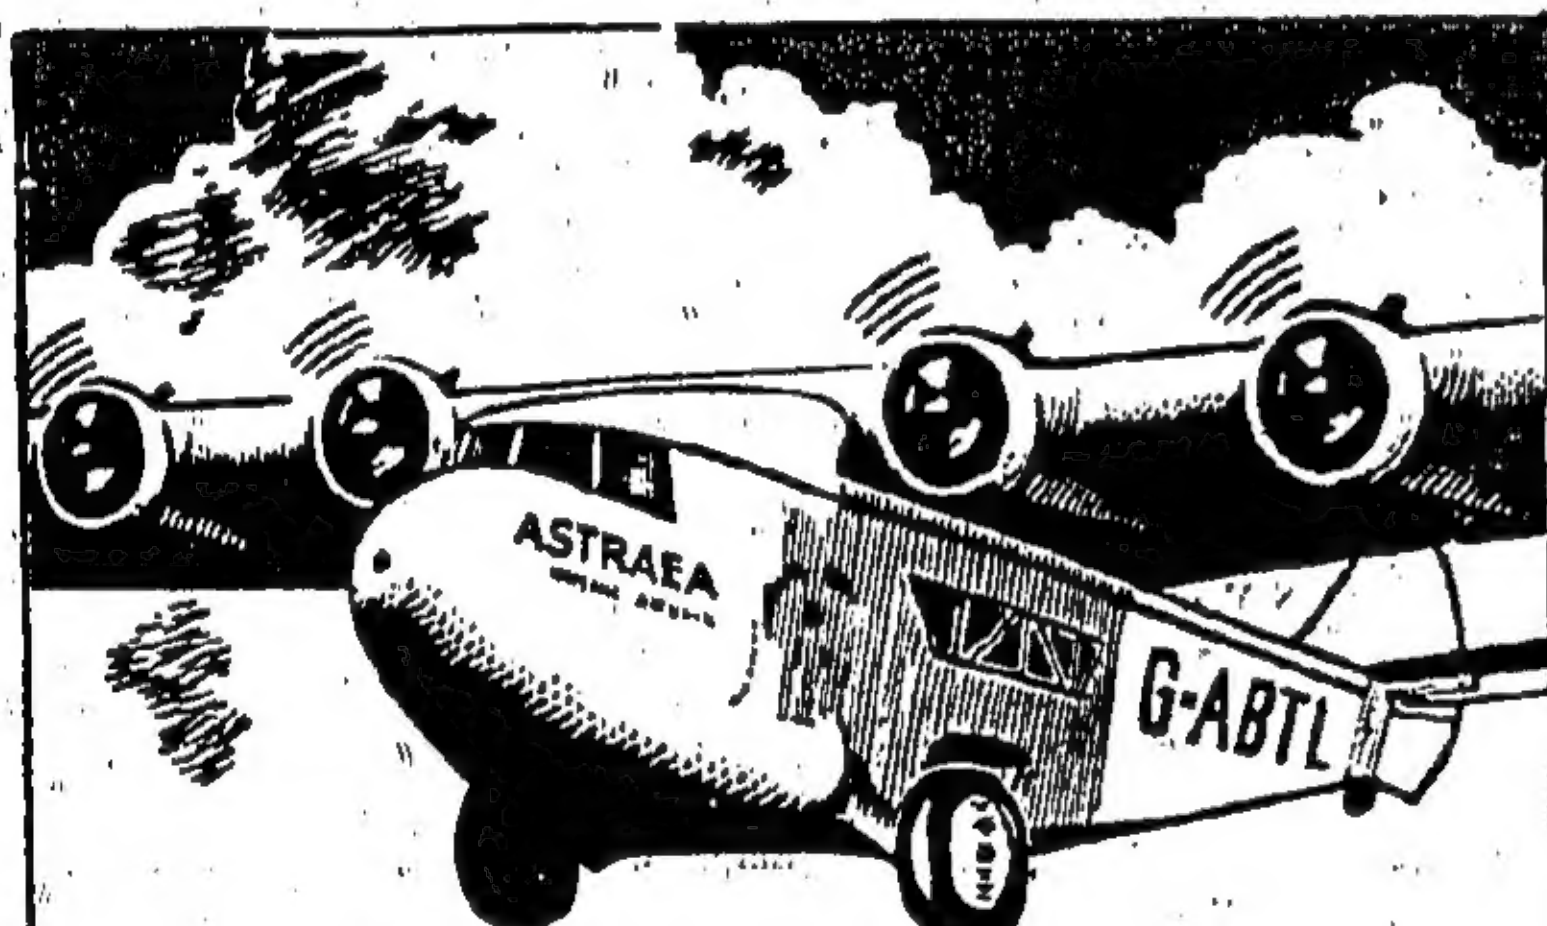

And the splendid part of it is that Sanatogen is not only a true tonic-food, but also very easily digestible, so that the weakest patient, and the weakest stomach, can digest it.

Sanatogen must do you good. It does not interfere with any medical treatment, and every glassful brings you nearer to perfect health again. Shorten that tedious period of convalescence. Be strong and healthy again. You can if you start your course of Sanatogen today.

SANATOGEN

The True Tonic-Food

Obtainable at all Chemists and Stores.

THE SHARE MARKET

Harriman's Weekly Review

Messrs. G. A. Harriman and Co's weekly share report and market review issued at noon to-day states:-

The market during the week under review was indeed very encouraging with "boom-like" conditions prevailing and trading resumed the proportions of the 'good old days' and the hurry and bustle of Ice House Street was with us once again. With a continually falling exchange many lakhs of dollars came into the market for investment and an 'air of prosperity' drew a once quiet street 'into the throes of activity'. Rates in all sections improved substantially, investment issues were marked up tremendously. Hongkong Trams jumping from $12 1/2 to $15, closing with a few shares on offer at $14.25. Hongkong Lands rose 9 points to $35 1/2, but eased off to $34.50 towards the close. Star Ferries changed hands at the much improved rate of $88. Hongkong Electric rose from $57 to $69 with sellers at the close at $67. Telephones (old) gained 4 points during the week with a very substantial business done up to $24 1/2. Dairy Farms hardened with sales reported at $18.18.50. Minor issues enjoyed their fair share of popularity. Providents (old) ruled much firmer and were done at 85 cts. to $1.25. Hotels improved a great deal with sales recorded at $3.85 to $5.25. Realities rose sharply from $4 1/2 to $6, closing on offer at $5 1/2. China Lights appreciated from $9.75 to $11 1/2, but reacted to $10.90 towards the close. Cements and Ropes had a very sharp rise and were done up to $7 and $4.25 respectively. Watsons changed hands at $4.20/6. Sterling counters were much firmer on account of the baseness of exchange which was down to 1/5. Hongkong Banks having been done at $117/1430 and Unions at $475/550. There is a little profit taking towards the close but the market is in a very healthy condition and buyers of all stocks prevail at slightly under market rates.

Business during the week had been done at the following prices:-

Hongkong Banks, $1170/1430.
Canton Insurance, $240/250.
Hongkong Fire, $232 1/2/245.
Providents (old), $0.85/1.25.

Rauhs, $7 1/2/8.-.
Antamoks, $1.-.
Peak Trams, $6 1/2.
Sinceres, $1.10.

ELLERMAN LINES ACCOUNTS

$87,999 Profit

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 21. Including dividends on their large interests outside the shipping industry, Ellerman Lines show a profit for 1934 of $87,999. This is struck after providing $250,000 for depreciation of steamers. For the previous year the company returned a profit of $32,522 after setting aside $282,137 for depreciation. The directors are paying as before dividends at the due rates on the Preference and Preferred capital, the amount of which outstanding is $1,380,000, but again nothing is distributed on the $280,000 of deferred shares. In spite of the return of capital to the extent of $3,270,000 made two years ago, the balance-sheet of Ellerman Lines is still exceptional for the size of the company's floating assets. Whereas fixed assets have a book value of $3,608,192, those of a floating character amount to well over $5,000,000 and represent a surplus

JAPANESE PRODUCTS

The Vienna correspondent of "The Times" reports that Japanese bicycles, petrol engines, porcelain goods, nibs, and sporting requisites are on the Austrian market and travellers are touring the country in the interest of Japanese industry. The result has been an increase in Japanese imports into Austria from 1,820,000sch. in 1933 to 4,800,000sch. in 1934. On the other hand Japan last year imported from Austria steel rods to the value of $600,000sch. and aluminium to the value of 1,900,000sch. Austrian exports to Japan rose from 7,200,000sch. in 1933 to 10,500,000sch. in 1934.

SEVEN-MONTHS VOYAGE

Off To Antarctic Research Ship Ready Tussle

(Special Air Mail Service)
 London, Oct. 21.
 Twenty young men who, in the next few weeks, will be among the icebergs of the Antarctic Sea, were busy engaged yesterday at St. Katherine's Dock, London, loading their little ship with stores and provisions.
 They were the crew of the Royal Research ship William Scoresby, which is leaving on Tuesday on a seven-months voyage to gather further information about the movements and habits of whales. It will be her fifth voyage to the South, and after the William Scoresby leaves Cape Town those aboard her may not see land for four months.

MORE THAN A GALE

Worst Within Living Memory

(Special Air Mail Service)
 London, Oct. 21.
 These later months of 1935 are full of storms. From Cumberland, where they know how mountain winds can blow, it is reported that the gale of Friday night and Saturday was the worst within living memory. Almost exactly a month ago we had a like visitation in the south, when the Selly Islands registered a wind velocity of 98 miles an hour. Croydon 67. On Friday night 92 miles an hour was recorded at Renfrew, at Liverpool the velocity was 85 and at Manchester 73. According to the meteorological classification this was more than a gale, for gales should not have a force over 55. Rising above that they become storms, and anything over 75 is a hurricane. We do not think of our islands as subject to such convulsions of the air, but though it is uncommon to produce them in a sequence they are not unprecedented.
